ITALIANS AND ETHIOPIANS IN SAVAGE FIGHTING

TRIBES HARRY CAPITAL AS RAINY SEASON DRAWS TO CLOSE

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(CNA)—A savage battle was fought on the outskirts of Addis Ababa last week as the Ethiopian Army hurled a force of 12,000 men against the fascist invaders who have made their headquarters in the former Ethiopian capital. The attacking force is part of an Ethiopian army of 60,000 which recently succeeded in surrounding the city and cutting Italian lines of communication with Italian Eritrea on the African east coast.

The battle raged for several days, reaching here report. The Ethiopian troops penetrated Addis Ababa at several points and were joined by thousands of civilians in the city in a concerted attack on the fascists.

That the battle was fought is admitted by Italian officials at Rome, who, however, claimed that the Ethiopians were driven back with a loss of 200 dead. Artillery was used in repelling the attack, Rome advises state.

Emperor angered

Italian admission of continued fighting in Ethiopia on a large scale is seen here as confirming Emperor Haile Selassie's claim that the Italian conquests are confined to a relatively small part of the country and are far from consolidated. According to reports reaching here less than one-eighth of the country is under direct Italian control.

In London last week the Emperor announced receipt of a cable from the new Ethiopian capital at Addis Ababa, in which the Emperor informed that all of Western Ethiopia is held by the new provisional Ethiopian government. The cable, sent by Bitwoded Wolde 'Zadik, regent for the Emperor, stated:

"In conformity with the instructions given by your majesty in view of the occupation of Addis Ababa by the Italians, a government has been set up and with the aid of a council composed of officials drawn from all the provinces of the empire and chosen among themselves all government services are being carried out."

The Emperor is reported angered by officials' expressions of Nazi sympathies towards Italy's "former German Minister to Ethiopia. Speaking at a fascist military reception in Addis Ababa last week, Dr. Strohm expressed admiration for Mussolini in his East African adventure, and pledged the co-operation of Germans living in Ethiopia.

SELASSIE MISGUIDED --- GARVEY; URGES RACIAL SOLIDARITY

TORONTO, Can., Sept. 9.—(ANP)—More than 500 officers and members of the Universal Negro Improvement Association (U. N. I. A.), headed by Founder and President-General, Marcus Garvey, were here last week in attendance at the annual convention of the movement, the occasion marking the first appearance of President Garvey here since 1928, when he presided at a similar conference following his return from the League of Nations.

The present meeting, an emergency one, was called by Garvey from his home in London, on the recommendation of Samuel A. Haynes, a Philadelphia newspaper man and head of the U. N. I. A. branches in the United States for more than two years. Following Garvey's conviction and prison sentence in America on charges of using the mails to defraud, he was deported from the States and since then Haynes has been his personal representative in America and holding every major office in the movement. The close of the present conference, it is said, will mark "Haynes' retirement" from the Garvey organization, to enable him to devote more of his time to journalism and literary work.

Discuss Vital Matters

Among the important subjects considered at the special meeting here by the Garveyites, were, drastic changes in administrative policies, constitutional revisions, financial rehabilitation, revitalizing of branches, and inauguration of a constructive program to offset Negro unemployment and his social and economic insecurity. Delegates from Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, New York City, Newark,

Selassie Was Misguided

Asked his opinion of the Ethiopian "annexation" by Italy, he said he had supported Ethiopia at the start of the controversy but that the policy of the government was bad, declaring "Emperor Haile Selassie's policy was misguided." He said neutrality was the best attitude for the Negro in the present European unrest, and that "international racial solidarity and cooperation is the only hope for the black people."

FREE ARKANSAS FUGITIVE IN CHI.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(C)—Chief Justice Denis Normoyle freed Samuel Bennett, of East Arkansas, on a writ of habeas corpus Thursday. Bennett was wanted in Forrest City for alleged assault to kill charges. Governor Horner denied Bennett's extradition.

PATROLMAN KILLS WIFE AND SELF AFTER BITTER QUARELL

NEW YORK CITY, September 10—Shooting his wife first and then turning the gun on himself, Patrolman John H. Robertson, 45, 365 Edgecombe avenue, put a tragic ending to an argument between himself and wife.

A witness of the shooting, Constance Daniel, giving an address in West 137th street, near Lenox, who was in the apartment at the time of the shooting, said the couple had quarreled bitterly.

Robertson, attached to the 135th street station since his appointment, had been on the force since 1926.

LEAGUE WOOS ITALY; ETHIOPIA MAY BE OUSTED BY TRICKERY

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—(S)—Antipathy of the delicate situation, which observers say is certain to arise, the Secretary General of the League of Nations, Joseph Avenol, left to confer with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, in Rome today. The dynamite-laden question is: What will Italy do about returning to the Geneva assembly if Emperor Haile Selassie names a delegation to sit in the League sessions, which informed sources say he is certain to do.

The trend here continues toward solving this problem in Premier Benito Mussolini's favor by having the Assembly's credentials committee question, and perhaps reject, the credentials of the delegation Emperor Haile Selassie is expected to name, if he does not himself return to Geneva to make this scheme harder to execute.

The credentials would be questioned on the ground that no organized, independent Ethiopian Government now exists. The problem, at best, will be difficult to solve.

While Britain and France remain anxious to humor Mussolini, they do not appear ready to grant to him definite recognition of his Ethiopian conquest or definitely to wipe the Negro and Ethiopia off the map and of the League rolls. It is not simply that this is impossible to reconcile with their League principles, but it seems not to fit their "realpolitik."

As long as Italy appears linked to Germany, it is always possible that Britain, France and Russia may need to keep revolt alive in Ethiopia or to keep diplomatic pressure on Italy, to prevent her from organizing a black army, if not to weaken the central powers in the event of war. Hence, the more ambiguous the legal and factual situation in Ethiopia the better for them, from this viewpoint.

All this, of course, is precisely why Count Ciano is expected to insist on definite settlement of this issue now in Italy's favor.

One compromise under consideration is to leave the matter of Ethiopia's status to a committee of jurists to report on in the indefinite future.

DESERTER GIVES MUSSOLINI MANTLE HE GOT FOR LOYALTY

ROME, September 5.—(By Special Correspondence)—"Under Italy's banned Ethiopian populace will enjoy peace and prosperity," Ras Gugsa said today when presenting a mantle to Mussolini. Gugsa, who is now governor of the province of Tigre, following his desertion of Haile Selassie during the war, is in Rome.

Selassie gave the rightly decorated mantle, bearing a lion's mane, to Gugsa before the advent of the Italians during the years his chiefs were loyal. Other ornaments were given the dictator by the Ethiopian.

SLUM PROJECT 'A VERY FINE JOB' SAYS ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(SPL.) The President told today that he inspected the PWA housing project at Indianapolis and that he considered it a very fine job. Mr. Ickes is quoted, following a brief conference with President Roosevelt who visited the Hoosier capital Saturday.

The President is reported highly pleased with the low rent housing and slum clearance project, Lockefield Garden, and Secretary of the Interior Ickes was gratified over the president's reaction.

The thousands who lined the streets and windows were treated to that rarest of spectacles, a president of these United States riding and appearing to enjoy waving to the many persons in Indiana avenue. It is reputedly the first time a president has come through this thoroughfare. So eager were some to get a close-up of this national figure that many half-forgot to applaud until the President had passed. Others because of the speed of the caravan and the little-distinguishing marks of the presidential car failed to recognize him until he had passed.

Federal-state agencies under the New Deal administration of Gov. Paul V. McNutt were warmly praised by the Mr. Roosevelt. It is said that he thoroughly enjoyed his visit to Indianapolis.

DUNN, EX-STAR HALFBACK, CUT

Robert George Dunn, 22, 2257 Indianapolis avenue, well-known sensational backfield star of Attucks High school in 1931, was slashed late Sunday evening, by William Caruthers, an alleged "fairy", when Dunn resented a disparaging remark made by Caruthers. During the ensuing street brawl, Dunn was cut severely across the stomach and left shoulder. By-standers say that in the brawl Caruthers was assisted by several others of the same caliber.

George Harris, 2609 Boulevard place; David Summers, 1829 Boulevard place; Julius Thompson, 411 Smith, and Opal Tandy, 400 West Fourteenth street, attempted to keep the alleged "fairies" from ganging Dunn. Police, who investigated the scrape, went to 305 Toledo street, an alleged hang-out of this gang and arrested William Caruthers, Bobby Johnson, Corine Lee, Georgia Robinson, and Hiawatha Johnson for violating and associating in a house of prostitution, and Hiawatha Johnson for maintaining a house of ill-fame.

Dunn is still in the City hospital and his condition is fair though still serious, hospital attaches say. In a statement to a Recorder reporter, Chief Morrissey stated that in the future whenever persons such as those who slashed Dunn, were seen in a group they would be unceremoniously dispersed by police with no waste of time.

MUSSOLINI'S CONQUEST MEETS FAVOR WITH HIS HOLINESS

PARIS, France, Sept. 7.—(RC)—Indirect and tactic recognition of the Italian conquest in East Africa has been made by Pope Pius XI and Monsignor Maria Castalani in the capacity of Apostolic visitor to the former realm of Selassie, according to advices received here. (Monsignor Castalani will leave soon for Addis Ababa to lay the groundwork for the Catholic church there. He is also bishop of Rhodes.

ASKS CLEMENCY FOR CONDEMNED, MATRON FIRED

COVINGTON, Ky., Sept. 9.—Charging insubordination and interference in the John Montjoy case, a Covington youth sentenced to hang on a conviction of rape, when it was learned that she had become party to a movement of Kentucky and Ohio citizens whose aim is to bring commutation of the sentence through Governor Chandler, Elizabeth Cochran was dismissed from office. She was a police matron.

It is understood that Miss Cochran had written a letter to Governor Chandler urging executive clemency for the condemned youth. It is believed that Miss Cochran reiterated in her letter previously expressed opinion that Montjoy was not guilty of the act charged and that the police had not brought Mrs. Irene Cummings, the woman involved in the case, to her for examination.

The statement of Miss Cochran was one of four points of objection made by an investigating committee to the trial and procedure in Montjoy's convictions. Other points were that no Negroes had been listed on the jury panel, that the defendant had improper defense by court-appointed counsel, and that Montjoy's confession was obtained by force.

The committee of investigation was composed of Dr. George A. Hedger and Mrs. Mary Brite of the American Civil Liberties Union; James T. Whitney of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and this correspondent.

The misconduct of the trial as revealed by the investigation was incorporated in appeal action carried to the U. S. Supreme Court by the American Civil Liberties Union. The appeal failed in that court because "no properly presented Federal question was involved."

Scheduled to hang on Sept. 21, Montjoy's execution was stopped by habeas corpus proceedings in the Federal District Court of Kentucky. Defense lawyers argued for a new trial on the basis of the fact that Montjoy had been beaten into confession and that medical experts had expressed definite belief that the act as described by Mrs. Cummings in her testimony was a physical impossibility.

The decision now places Montjoy's life again in the hands of Governor Chandler. He is expected to set a new date for execution. Previous appeals for clemency were answered by Chandler in speeches in an election campaign that "I make no Kentucky colonels and grant no pardons or commutations."

The defense groups have announced that they may again carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

TAKES PARIS GREEN

C. A. band and a musician of much note. John Wilson, clerk in a drug store at Twelfth and Sans, stated that Pope had tried to purchase a small quantity of poison from his store recently.

With the addition of "Genial Bill Scott," alteration man, the management of the Medias Loan company have realized a long-time ambition, namely, to have all hired employees, colored. This 44-year-old institution, which has been serving in this neighborhood that length of time, in both the loan and mercantile business at 506-3 Indiana avenue, has always favored colored people in the matter of employment. It is common knowledge that, when their new structure was erected in 1922, it was stipulated that colored help be used exclusively in building it.

Regarding his colored employees, Mr. Medias said, "I have never regretted giving these men positions of responsibility. We have found them efficient, honest and dependable. They are given a free

11TH WD. GOP'S OPEN QUARTERS

Opening this week of the 11th Ward Republican Club, to be located at 544 1/2 Indiana avenue, was announced today by Thomas C. Whallon, 11th ward chairman, as the Republicans swung into action for the coming campaign. Meeting are scheduled to be held here throughout the campaign period during which time many if not all the candidates will appear for the rallies and to deliver speeches.

Committeeman Canston Thomas of the fourth precinct, Harold Kauffman of the fifth and Arnold Goodrich of the sixth were very largely instrumental in locating the headquarters as well as being in the fore in the carrying out of the program.

All Republicans and their friends are cordially urged to make 544 1/2 Indiana avenue their headquarters and "drop-in."

With the establishment of St. Rita's Parish at 1816 N. Arsenal in 1919 under the pastorate of Rev. Father Joseph E. Bryan, the school was transferred to that location. In 1935 Rev. Fr. John F. McShane was appointed pastor.

The same religious order of teachers (those who live according to the Rule of St. Francis) continued from 1892 until 1930. Thereafter the school has been taught by the Sisters of Divine Providence from St. Mary-of-the-Wood, Ind.

The new Superior sent this year is Sister Clara, who will be assisted by two other able teachers of the same religious order.

The school building, which is substantial and spacious, well-lighted, heated, and ventilated, is rapidly being renovated and redecorated by an ambitious and enthusiastic congregation. Although they were unable to open school on September 8, they will be ready to throw open the doors next Monday, September 14, to our children, barring no child because of its creed.

The school has only three cardinal rules, officials say. The first is discipline; the second is discipline; the third is discipline. No others are needed because where obedience to and respect and reverence and love for duty constituted authority is inculcated into the heart of the child, all things else will follow as the day follows the dawn. The child will acquire both knowledge and virtue, it is said. It will become a good citizen in these United States and also in the Kingdom of Heaven. While the child is given food for its mind it is also given food for its soul. The school expects the children to do only their best, angels can do no more.

TO CORRAL RACE VOTE--NEW DEAL

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 10.—(ANP)—A nation-wide drive to deliver the Negro vote to President Roosevelt, a feature of which will be enlisting the services of Baptist and Methodist ministers to persuade their brethren to "stop voting for Lincoln and vote for Roosevelt instead" was started Thursday of this week by Stanley High's Good Neighbor League.

Members of the League, including ministers and business and professional people, are seeking to organize "good neighbor clubs" in the churches of the country, and an organization meeting was held Thursday at Harlem YMCA, 180 West 135th St. The committee later went to the Park offices of the Good Neighbor League where they were addressed informally by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The President's wife expressed the hope that the good neighbor idea would become a permanent one, and general throughout the nation, and emphasized the opportunity open to the church in promoting harmony among all groups. Bishop R. R. Wright, Jr., of Philadelphia and Rev. A. Clayton Powell, Sr., pastor Abyssinian Baptist church, who presided at the earlier meeting are co-chairman of the League's national Negro committee. Bishop R. C. Ransom of Wilberforce, Ohio, also attended the meeting and predicted that 30 percent of Ohio's 206,000 Negro voters would support Roosevelt at the November election.

PUSH PROBE OF ANTI-WHITES; TWO HELD IN PLANTER KILLING

GREENWOOD, Miss., Sept. 10.—(ANP)—An official probe into a supposed anti-white union of Negro cotton farmers which was launched soon after the death of two white men and they lagged received new impetus last week following the alleged threatening of V. A. Ainsworth, white planter, by Sam Warner, 60, a tenant farmer. Warner was arrested.

According to Ainsworth's story, he sent for Warner to talk to him about reports that efforts were being made to stop ginning on the Ainsworth plantation. He declared Warner drew a pistol, threatened him, then fled.

Two other sharecroppers, Andrew Hemphill and Tommy Jones, are in jail charged with murder in connection with the slaying on August 12 of William Simpson and William R. Ingram, young white overseers.

MAN STABS FOUR IN KNIFE FEST

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 10.—(ANP)—Following a heated battle in the barroom of the Hotel Linden here last Friday, Charles Bibbs, 40 years old, is in jail charged with felonious assault after allegedly stabbing four men. According to police, Bibbs' first victim was Benjamin Leach, waiter, who was slashed with a penknife when he attempted to eject Bibb from the barroom following an argument.

James Cunningham, a bartender, who rushed to Leach's aid was stabbed in the stomach, and a moment later, Paul Murray, chef, who sought to overpower Bibbs was cut in the left side. Then as Joseph Walsh, a patron, leaped for the door, as the crowd attracted by the commotion, began to assemble, but none dared to stop the knife-wielder. He fled into the street, but patrolmen on foot and the police radio squad soon cornered and captured him. Bibbs was taken to the State hospital, where the victims had been rushed for emergency treatment, where all four wounded men identified him as their assailant.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS BUY SITE FOR CHURCH AND SCHOOL

Acquisition of a property in Capitol avenue at McLean place, to be used as a church and school site by the Seventh Day Adventists was announced today. The plans call for erection of a $25,000 church building, our source divulged. Until the structure is built, services will be held in the Knights of Pythias hall at Walnut and Senate venue. The growth of the Adventist church has been rapid, showing a gain from less than one hundred members to three hundred in a year. Lectures are given Sunday, Tuesday, and Friday nights, and the public is warmly welcomed at all times.

At present a school is being operated by the church and its enrollment numbers forty-eight students; two teachers are employed in this work and the classes taught range through the first nine grades.

A progressive theme is held by the church, Elder J. H. Lawrence, pastor, said, and the youth's place in the community is recognized and stressed.

NABS "RETIRED" POLICY CHIEF; NETS $1,300,000 IN ONE YEAR

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11.—(ANP)—Police having been informed months ago that Benny Mason, once policy "king" of Cleveland, had purchased a farm in the outskirts of the city and had retired from active connection in the numbers racket, were surprised to find him at his old headquarters during two consecutive raids on the place in just many days. It appeared that he is not a farmer after all.

"If he is a farmer he doesn't stay on his farm," said Detective Sergeant Peter Allen, who arrested Mason and charged him with promoting gambling.

Mason once told a county grand jury that his gross income in a year from policy business was $1,300,000. More recently he has asserted that he is in retirement. Thomas M. Frey, his attorney in a civil suit told reporters last February that Mason had been in retirement for three months and was spending most of his time in the country, where a good farmer ought to be.

A squad under sergeant Allen raided the 46th street headquarters and found Mason there. "Come on in," he told Sergeant Allen and two more detectives, "I have nothing to do with the place. My son-in-law is running the joint."

A squad under sergeant Allen, Leroy Strander, 27, was arrested. He had his case continued until September 21. In the afternoon the squad returned and saw that activity had not lessened, they said, they got a search warrant. When they raided the place the next day and found Mason there again, he was silent, the police said. About 200 persons were in the place on both occasions and a bushel basket of pay-off slips representing a prize disbursement of $500 were confiscated. Mason and Strander were freed on $500 surety bonds each.

GET DIPLOMAS AT CCC SCHOOL

Captain R. O. Uthe, Sector Commander and Chaplain Maurer were the principal speakers at the Commencement exercises of Company 3550, CCC, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. Captain Uthe delivered the main address of the evening and Chaplain Maurer spoke briefly but interestingly. Mr. Morris, educational adviser, held the attention of all present as he outlined the past educational program and previewed the program for the semester starting on October 1st. Lodman, assistant educational adviser, delivered the welcome address and acted as master of ceremonies. Senior Foreman, Myers, showed his mettle as a public speaker in an address marked by sincerity, originality, and conciseness. Captain Lake W. Hendley, commanding officer, complimented the men on their work up to date and told them that the work had just started. A WPA orchestra entertained with musical numbers to round out the program. All proceedings were broadcast over the public address system lent to camp by Mr. Allison. Diplomats were presented to seventeen men by Mr. Morris.

Mr. Morpheus, assistant supervisor of recreation and education on WPA projects in Indianapolis, visited camp on Wednesday, September 2nd, as special guest of Mr. Morris, educational adviser. A special supper in Mr. Morpheus' honor was held in the mess hall with Ace Bailey and his Utah Ramblers serenading the guests as they dined. All the faculty of the past semester were present and an enjoyable time was had by all. Mrs. Pruitt, English teacher, Mr. Harper, conservation instructor, Mr. Polin, music teacher, Mr. Syder, WPA teacher located at Co. 3550 for observation of WPA classes. Mr. Allison, radio and vocational teacher, Miss Harrison, commercial teacher, Mr. Burnett, Spanish and mathematics instructor, Miss Blow, visitor, Mr. Dutch, arts and crafts teacher, and Rodman, journalism teacher and assistant to educational adviser were the guests at the banquet. Mr. Morris, educational adviser, and Mr. Morpheus made the principal addresses. The banquet lasted two hours and was enlivened by the friendly feud between Mr. Polin and Mr. Allison with Mr. Polin having a shade the better of the mental duel. Mr. Polin decried the art of Radio and Mr. Allison likened music unto a swelling of discordant sounds. Finally they let matters drop—after the food came to the table.

RURAL T. B. RATE GROWS ACUTE

TARBORO, N. C., Sept. 11.—(ANP)—Dr. Alban Papineau, staff physician at the state sanatorium who is conducting a tuberculosis clinic in the search for new cases of the disease in Edgecombe county, last week delivered an address before the local Rotary club, in the course of which he declared that T. B. among Negroes, especially in rural Eastern North Carolina, has become one of the major problems confronting state health officials.

The physician said colored people are particularly susceptible to the disease because of the crowded housing condition which brings constant contact of healthy individuals with the infected members of their family. Other important contributing causes he said were lack of sanitation in the homes and their aversion to leaving home to enter a sanatorium. Many, he said, refuse absolutely to go to the T. B. institutions for treatment and there is no law by which they can be forced to go.

Dr. Papineau also stressed the need for a larger number of county and state institutions specializing in tuberculosis treatment, and pointed out that the waiting list at the state sanatorium including both white and colored victims of the plague, is so long that no applicants can be admitted for several months. In many cases the physician says the patient dies before his name can be reached on the list, while others have arrived at the incurable stage and cannot be admitted, because the sanatorium takes no hopeless cases.

MAPS GOP FIGHT; LANDON SAYS "ABSOLUTE EQUALITY OF ALL"---

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(ANP)—Declaring the condition of the Negro in America is "more grave than ever before" the Republican National Planning board for Colored Voters held a two-day session in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday and laid grounds for waging a fight against the New Deal for what was called "a Democratic attempt to take advantage of the misfortune and destitution of millions of our colored citizens."

Landon Sends Telegram

In the telegram sent by Landon, then awaiting a drouth conference with President Roosevelt, and read by Hamilton, the candidate said the history of the Republican party and colored citizens is so intertwined that "it is impossible to think of freedom and the remarkable progress of colored Americans without recalling the origin of our party."

"The Republican party keeps the faith with its founders who promised to remain unwavering in the cause of fully established emancipation," the telegram went on. "Our party is not sectional. I employ neither platitudes nor motives. Our platform for 1936 as it relates to colored Americans together with the principles of the

Says New Deal Hurts Race

"The New Deal has designedly used its great powers to regiment the colored citizens out of America's productive life," the report said. "It has abandoned our Negro farmer to the whims of large land owners, permitting him to be thrown off his farms to starve on inadequate relief rolls. Under the guise of NRA, it fixed wages for Negro workers so low as to make relief a necessary choice. The New Deal has permitted unlimited brutality to be inflicted upon Negro sharecroppers. It has even in the administration of relief discriminated against our colored citizens, both by giving them less for home relief than is given to whites and by compelling skilled Negro artisans to work mainly at unskilled labor on the WPA."

"It has prostituted many of our leading Negro organizations and heads thereof by subsidizing them through the medium of Jim Crow federal appointments. It has refused to take any steps to protect the life of the colored citizens of the Southern states against the brutality of mob violence. And, finally, by means of relief, the New Deal has sought to drug the colored citizen into an indifference to this rape of his liberties and manhood."

Asserting that the Democratic party and President Roosevelt in the Philadelphia National convention were asked to declare against "abuses" in the party platform and "pledge their correction" but were "completely silent" and that Landon and the Republican party were the only ones "with courage enough to talk," the planning board enumerated what the GOP had to offer in way of advantages to colored citizens for their support in the coming election.

PWA Efforts Held A Sham

"Negro labor will find that its fortunes are best served by supporting Governor Landon," the board declared. "The PWA efforts were purely a sham and the few colored workers served to show the Democratic administration believes Negro labor should exist on relief rather than by working in America's productive life. Highly trained colored mechanics have been forced to toil at unskilled labor. New Deal social security laws excluded from its benefits the two groups containing the largest number of Negro workers: domestics and agricultural workers. The Republican party has pledged itself to further the employment of the colored citizen in the gainfully occupied life of the worker, both in government and private occupations. The Republican party and Governor Landon have made adequate assurances that relief for all needy persons will be continued. There-

SELASSIE'S DAUGHTER TO BE NURSE IN LONDON HOSPITAL

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(By Randolph Dunbar for ANP)—Princess Tsahai, 17-year-old daughter of Emperor Haile Selassie of Abyssinia, will shortly join the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children as a "probationer nurse." She will do the customary three months' preliminary training to see if she likes the work and to enable hospital authorities to discover whether she is suited to it. At the end of three months, if she passes requirements, the princess will be enrolled as a "permanent" probationer and will undergo three years' training. After that, she may go to a general hospital for further experience and return to the Hospital for Sick Children to become a registered nurse. Princess Tsahai will lie at the nurses' home and receive the nominal salary of approximately $100 yearly. Members of the English nobility have also received training at this hospital. The Princess Royal, before her marriage to the Earl of Harewood, also received two years of training as a children's nurse at the same institution.

VANN ADVISOR TO FARLEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(ANP)—James A. Farley, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, made the following announcement today: "I am pleased to announce the appointment of Robert L. Vann, Esq., Pittsburgh publisher, as special advisor to the Democratic National Campaign Committee. "I have made this appointment for two reasons: first, because I have known Bob Vann for a number of years and he did a fine job for us in the Presidential Campaign of 1932; second, because he has had experience in seven National Campaigns, and you can't beat experience. "Mr. Vann has just returned from Berlin where he attended the Olympic Games, and before he left for Europe, we conferred on many phases of the Campaign and the suggestions he left with me have been put into force. "Senator Guffey said he was delighted to have Bob Vann return to this country and assist in this campaign. 'I have worked with Bob Vann in past Campaigns, and I know how valuable an asset he will be to our cause,' the Senator said."

Reports have it that the appointment of Julian Rainey and Congressman Arthur Mitchell to head the eastern and western bureaus respectively not only had the approval of Mr. Vann but was instigated by him.

"DIDN'T MEAN TO KILL" DOOMED YOUTH WHO SLEW WATCHMAN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 10.—(ANP)—After deliberating only ten minutes a Circuit Court jury on Wednesday, returned a verdict of guilty against James Austin, 22-year-old youth and fixed his penalty at death in the electric chair. The man slain was John McTigrit, a night watchman, and Austin, while admitting he shot the officer, testified that he was drunk at the time and could not remember all that took place.

Austin's confession was admitted into the records by the court. Night Police Captain Bob Moore and Officers Sellers, Griffin and Robbins testified that Austin confessed to the killing while they were bringing him back from Malvern, Ark., where he had fled.

Quash One Indictment

Castle Rye, another colored youth was indicted with Austin, in the McTigrit murder, but because of the fact that no Negro was a member of the Grand Jury that returned the indictment against him charging first-degree murder, Judge Earl Witt sustained a motion that the indictment be dismissed.

missed. Scipio A. Jones and John A. Hilber, well known colored lawyers of Little Rock, appeared for Rye and presented the motion that the indictment be quashed, but residents here who have followed the case are wondering why the indictment was dismissed against Rye, but not against Austin, since both were indicted at the same time.

Judge Witt remanded Rye into the custody of county officers to await action of the September grand jury which will convene in about two weeks. Judge Witt said that Negroes would be members of that Grand Jury and indicated that Negroes may be summoned for jury service.

After hearing the jury's sentence of death, Austin declared: "I didn't mean to kill him. I shot when he came on me. I had started to run away and he called for me to stop. He fired and I shot back to keep him from coming close to me." Officers said that prior to the shooting of McTigrit, Austin and Rye had staged a hold-up on lower Broadway.

OPERATES ON 107-YEAR-OLD EX-SLAVE FOR CATARACTS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 11.—(ANP)—An operation for the removal of cataracts from his eyes will be undergone this week by "Uncle Henry" Winfield, 107 years old and a former slave of President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy, according to doctors.

The elderly man, who says he would like the use his eyes for the remainder of his life, gets a small pension from the United Daughters of the Confederacy and has papers at Nashville proving he was born at Lynchville, Va., Jan. 9, 1829, on the home place of Jefferson Davis' father.

Later, Uncle Henry went to Kentucky and then moved to Davis Bend below Vicksburg, Miss. Jeff Davis had four plantations all made into one, the former slave said, and he was carriage driver "for the missus." After emancipation, he farmed until he got too old and then he became a gambler. But about thirty years he joined church and since then has been helped by whites.

PROTESTS LEGIONAIRE "JIM CROW" PLAN

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 1.—(ANP)—Cleveland war veterans and members of the Boydston Post, American Legion are protesting the action of the National American Legion, in sending its ruling back to Cleveland, that if the colored members of the Post are to accept funds for the forthcoming Legion convention, they must have a separate activities committee.

This ruling coming from the national body of the American Legion 1936 National Convention executive committee here, has cast a damper on the plans of the local post, composed of Cleveland's colored war veterans. It also nullifies the successful protest of Harry J. Walker, past commander of the Cleveland Lemuel T. Boydston Post, 94, at Sandusky in 1934, as a result of which the Ohio Legion convention ruled out any effort to segregate or put aside any race at the Ohio meeting.

The Cuyahoga County Council of the American Legion, by motion, asked the local convention corporation, according to reports, to take this matter up with the national body. The convention corporation stood with Boydston Post on the matter, but was overruled by the national body.

Local veterans say that several years ago when the national body

Overruled By National Body

met in Portland, Oregon, a resolution was put through, making it mandatory for national conventions to set up colored activities. They say the resolution was put over easily because not many colored Legionnaires attended this convention.

Clevelanders Protest

Officers of Boydston Post, following the Oregon meeting, informed Vic McKensie, contact man for the national organization, that the Cleveland vets would not accept any such Jim Crow plan, and the situation which has just arisen.

Post Furthers Their Plans

Boydston Post has decided therefore, to do their own job at their own expense, its members having voted they would have nothing to do with a segregation setup in Cleveland. Boydston is said to be the largest Post in the county and the committee, composed of Harry Walker, Albert Seay, and James Bridge, have promised they will be ready for the convention.

TWO COLORED GRABBED IN "HOT CAR" CLEAN-UP

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(ANP)—Two Negroes were among eight men arrested Saturday in what police described as the largest gang of automobile thieves in the midwest with elaborate and almost "fool proof" precautions to escape detection. Activities of the gang extended from Ohio to the state of Washington.

The colored arrested are Thomas Lawson, 30, and Cy Wheatley, 32, both of Chicago. Two white men have been jailed in Chicago, four in Fort Wayne, Ind., and four are being sought in Cincinnati. Federal agents have joined the hunt because the automobiles, all of them stolen here, were shipped across state lines for disposal in violation of the Dyer act.

Within the last six months the gang has stolen, dismantled and resold at least 200 new automobiles in the Chicago area. It is expected the breakup of the gang will cause the daily rate of auto thefts to drop from around nine to about two or three.

The headquarters of the gang were on State street on the edge of the black belt at an auto parts concern directed by Martin Levin, a member of the ring. Lawson lived only a few doors away. For three weeks officers worked on the case centering their suspicions on Levin's store. Friday night Fort Wayne police arrested O. A. Smith, who confessed, and local officers raided the Levin concern where they uncovered a headquarters for handling "hot" cars.

In three buildings, beginning with Levin's store, all the evidence was found. Concealed steel doors connected the structures and were operated electrically by hidden push buttons. Through a front entrance stolen cars were driven into the center building on a dirt runway and then thieves raked the floor to remove tire tracks.

In another building apparatus was found to melt down small metal parts. On the second floor police found cushions and doors to at least 60 new cars. From here the gang loaded dismantled parts into trucks driven into an area-way. Specific makes and models of cars were stolen on receipts of orders from Fort Wayne or Cincinnati.

The gang purchased junked cars in Seattle to cover up operations and obtained legitimate numbers to transfer to stolen cars. Many of the stolen vehicles were taken from a lot two blocks away from the Levin store. They were then "doctored" and sent out of Illinois for disposal. The spare parts which had been removed were handled through "fences" in Cincinnati and Fort Wayne.

STEER CLEAR OF LABOR WAR URGES WRITER

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 2.—(ANP)—With the organized labor movement in America threatened with permanent impairment by the widening schism between the groups headed up by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor on the one side and International president John L. Lewis of the United Mine-workers on the other hand, those who have given serious consideration to the situation are not so sure that it wouldn't be best for unorganized colored working persons to remain aloof from getting tied up with organized labor groups on the eve of a titanic struggle which may eventually benefit nobody.

Of course, it must be borne in mind that there is no such an entity in the labor realm as "the Negro worker." There are colored laborers and artisans who have been craft union members all their lives; others for several years, notably longshoremen and employees of the "stevedores" departments of Atlantic coastwise steamship lines, including the ships operated in the South American "races"; unskilled laborers, etc.

Nor can it be successfully contended, observers here declare that only a minority of Negro workers are union men because the same hold true as respects whites. John L. Lewis made the schism in the A. F. of L., of which his United Mine-workers is biggest, most powerful unit, because the parent body's craft union policy, he asserts and with vigor, keeps four-fifths of all workers out of labor unions in this country. Hence, his revolt, and aggressiveness at fostering industrial unions, as against craft unions.

President Green is himself on record that President Lewis' move threatens the destruction of labor union altogether, and backed by such authoritative utterances, those who contend unorganized Negro workers ought to stay that way are on firm ground with regard to their conclusions, especially so in view of the fact that A. F. of L. chieftains have obviously lost control of the rank and file.

The union political movement pledged to vote for and support President Roosevelt's reelection is headed up by Major George L. Berry, president of the A. F. of L. (printing) Pressmen's International Union. Last week, Major Berry was joined by President Howard A. F. of L.'s typographical union and heads of other unions in the newspaper field in a protest against the "high-handedness" of those A. F. L. unions that stopped their men from working on Mr. Hearst's Post-Intelligencer at Seattle, Washington; the A. F. of L.ers on strike won't let the A. F. of L. linotypers, pressmen, etc., work.

And thus is afforded the anomalous situation of one set of A. F. of L. chiefs calling on their President to declare another set of A. F. of L. chiefs to be "outlaws."

Killing Marks Union Meet

The A. F. of L. hotel men and barkeepers international held its annual convention last week in Rochester, N. Y. Chief event was the killing of New York delegate, wounding of three other delegates and passerby by a gunman who escaped.

Police are inclined to attribute the murder to union feuds, originating in New York City. And this is the A. F. of L. international which has chartered some unions of dining car cooks and waiters, including those on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

LESS FUEL SAYS HENRY FORD FOR NEW MODEL CAR

Ten important improvements have been added to the 1936 Ford V-8 since it was announced to the public last October, according to local Ford dealers.

This is in line with Henry Ford's policy, adopted many years ago, of making improvements available to the public as soon as they are perfected and without waiting for yearly model changes.

The improvements include:

A new "economy" dual down draft carburetor, permitting use of a "leaner" fuel mixture, without lessening performance. More economical "stop-and-go" driving is made possible by a new accelerating pump.

A new "economy" rear axle, with a ratio of 3.73-to-1, which reduces materially engine speed in relation to car speed and is an important factor in fuel saving.

New interiors for both de luxe and standard body types, new fittings for the de luxe types, new colors—armory green and light-faded maroon—in de luxe types, and the addition of mohair upholstery for standard types.

Addition of four new body types—the Tudor and Fordor touring sedans, the club cabriolet and the convertible sedan.

Among the other improvements are—new design cast steel alloy crankshaft with increased weight and increased bearing surfaces, new crankshaft bearings of steel-backed type; positive lubrication of cantilever type car springs; improved water pump design intended to increase the speed of circulation of cooling water; improved oil pump design and the production of the "high wheeler" car for use in rough country where roads are unmet and runs deep.

Liquid air plays an important part in the manufacture of a Ford V-8 engine. Exhaust valve seat inserts, which practically eliminate the need for grinding valves, are immersed in liquid air to be contracted before they are placed in the cylinder block. Expansion with normal temperature makes a tight fit.

Established in 1903, the Ford Motor Company is now in its thirty-fourth year of manufacturing automobiles.

Upholstery materials used in Ford V-8 bodies are inspected by wear-testing machine which rubs the fabrics together 10,000 in 30 minutes with a six-pound weight bearing on the cloth, simulating the results of years of hard wear.

Ford V-8 passenger cars have a springbase of 123 inches on a wheelbase of 112 inches. The springs are suspended in front of and behind the front and rear axles, respectively, as part of Ford's "centerpoise" suspension.

Production of a million Ford cars requires derivatives from more than 450,000 bushels of corn in the form of green bond, butyl alcohol, and rubber substitutes.

The 230,000 volt X-ray machine in the Ford Motor Company's laboratory will photograph four inches deep in a cast alloy steel crankshaft in three minutes.

HARLEM'S CRACK 369TH MOVES TO END SUMMER TRAINING

PEPEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Beginning the last two weeks of the summer encampment of the New York state national guard, Harlem's crack unit and pride, the 369th Infantry, moved into Camp Smith. The unit is reputedly the only all-colored national guard regiment in this country.

It displaced the staff and headquarters detachment of the 27th Division, commanded by Major Gen. William H. Haskell, the 102d Engineers, commanded by Colonel Frederic E. Humphrey; the 27th Division special troops, commanded by Major John C. Mansfield, and the 102d Quartermaster regiment, commanded by Colonel Foster G. Hetzel.

In nearly 200 buses, the Harlem unit left its home armory at 6:0 a. m. and at 10 a. m. was bedded down and ready to begin its active training tomorrow. A detachment of two officers and thirty-six men had arrived in camp last night to complete preparations for the arrival.

The incoming regiment, organized in 1917, as the 15th Infantry, is the youngest unit in the state guard. With the exception of Colonel Grimley and Lieut. Col. James M. Roche, executive officers, the unit is commanded entirely by Negroes. Other staff officers include Major Maurice De Moses, plans and training officer; Captain James W. Johnson, adjutant, and Captain Frank White, regimental surgeon.

With 95 per cent. strength of its 1,100 members in camp, the Harlem regiment will take up marksmanship firing on the camp range during the first week. In the second week tactical problems will be taken up affield in the vicinity of the reservation.

Visitors' day, a feature of the encampment, will be observed next Sunday, when Governor Lehman is scheduled to review the regiment. From 12,000 to 15,000 visitors are expected.

SCATTERS LYNCH LITERATURE

PLEASANTVILLE, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(Calvin Service)—Many people have wondered who is the distinguished looking white lady who rides a bicycle and distributes literature against lynching throughout Westchester county, one of the most fashionable sections of New York State. She is Grace Mott Johnson, sculptress, whose New England forebears hated injustice, and she does the work for the love of fighting for a better world.

An appeal recently distributed by Miss Johnson reads in part: "Citizens: Most Trade Unions (for instance, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and National Rural Letter Carriers Association) discriminate absolutely against colored citizens in their qualifications for membership. Most public beaches, pools and tax-supported amusement parks exclude or discriminate against citizens of an appreciable degree of African blood or "color," catering instead to foreigners or naturalized Italians, Greeks, Jews, Germans, Irish, speaking poor English, or using their native dialects and manners. Colored citizens are not employed in these places unless for the most menial and undesirable work. At

TO CELEBRATE 'ALLIANCE DAY'

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(ANP)—Upwards of eighty-five branches of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, located in as many cities throughout the United States, will celebrate "Alliance Day" on October, marking the 23rd anniversary of the founding of the organization. As planned by the Executive Committee of the body, the occasion will serve to better substantiate and to improve the status of Negroes in the Postal Service in particular, and the service of the federal government in general.

MAPS NEW PLAN FOR BUSINESS

HAMPTON INSTITUTE, Va., Sept. 11.—(ANP)—The executive committee of the National Negro Business League met here last week and outlined a program for 1936 and 1937.

Dr. F. D. Patterson, President of Tuskegee Institute, and R. N. Harris, of the Bankers Fire Insurance Company of Durham, were elected to membership on the Committee. Considerable discussion was given to the rapid growth of the Consumers Co-operative movement and plans were outlined for bringing younger Negro business men into the official family and for inviting representatives of various Negro business groups to participate in a program for the future.

Dr. Patterson was appointed chairman of a Steering Committee to co-ordinate the plans and to present its report at the next meeting of the Executive Committee which will be held at Tuskegee Institute during the Annual Tuskegee Negro Conference which is to be held in December.

Dr. Robert R. Moton, President of the League, was present, and agreed to continue as president until "we have our new program outlined and ready to set in motion." C. C. Spaulding presided.

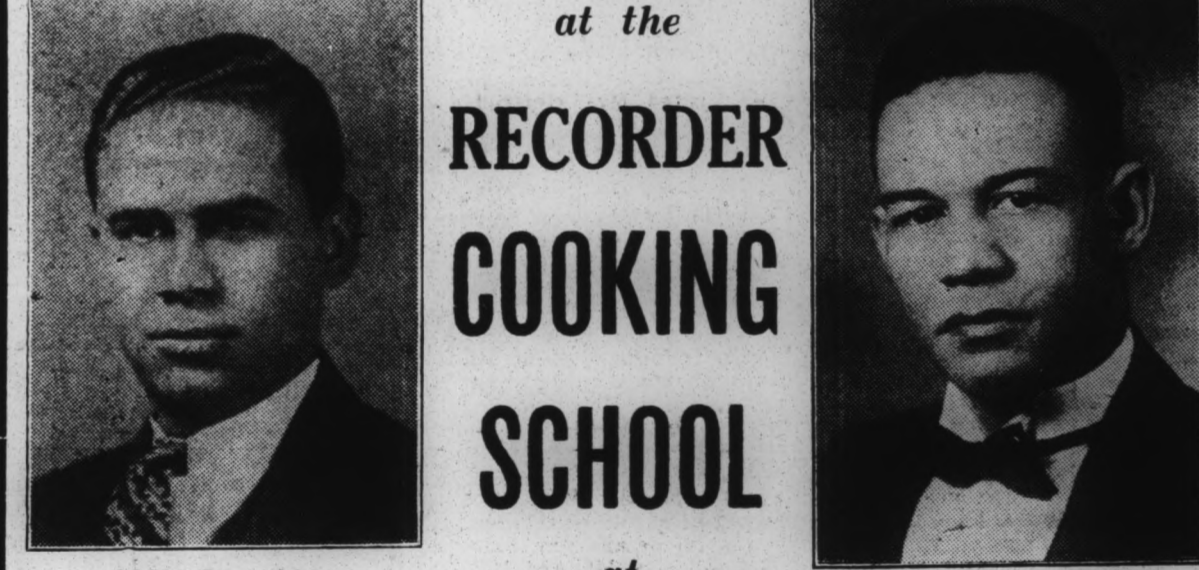

often made by some sources to retard the progress of Negroes in the postal service, the celebration will include features designed to cultivate better relationships among the white and colored employees. Government officials, citizens' committees, and members of the alliance, will be brought together to discuss problems openly and frankly, according to plans already completed.

The N. A. P. E. was organized in Chattanooga, Tennessee, October 4, 1913, and has functioned continuously since that date in the interest of the postal service, and for justice, equality, and unrestricted opportunity for all employees alike. Since May 1, 1936, the organization has employed G. N. T. Gray of Indianapolis as a full-time welfare representative, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Members of the executive committee are: Jerry O. Gilliam, Chairman, Norfolk, Va.; Lafayette F. Ford, St. Louis; Sidney M. Jackson, Washington; Robert E. L. Hutton, Oakland, California; Percy R. Hines, Chicago; Richard C. T. White, Houston; Thomas P. Bonnar, Washington; William L. Cooper, Charleston, S. C.; William W. Kerr, New Orleans; George W. Golden, Jackson, Tennessee; Harry W. Baise, Cleveland; Jose H. Sherwood, St. Paul, Minnesota; Harold L. Pilgrim, Philadelphia; and Edward LaSalle, Kansas City, Kansas.

SUMMER RESORT
IT'S THE IDEAL SPOT FOR LOVE, ROMANCE, REST AND VACATIONING. Yes and the sweet-smelling lake breeze, and soothing lake water makes one forget all his troubles, that is, of course, if he has any. . . . Give me those wide open spaces at FOX LAKE, INDIANA'S GREATEST SUMMER RESORT, where Indianapolis was well represented on LABOR DAY WEEK-END. . . . While strolling up and down the main lane you might for a moment or two have thought you were in INDIANAPOLIS as you ran into. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Shirley H. Winfrey in "Lil Irene", (the name of the cottage) in this party were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Pettiford of Muncie and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Courtney. . . . The next cottage we find the F. B. Ransom family, Mrs. Ransom, Fred Frank. . . . the two little Ransoms, Miss Marguerite Taylor, Mrs. Viola Washington, Mrs. Ransom's sister, and J. D. Stranton. . . . On Labor Day they had as special guests, ATTY. AND MRS. JESSE HESLIP of Toledo.

MR. AND MRS. TODD REYNOLDS, who without a doubt possess the most beautiful cottage both inside and outside on the entire lake resort had as their guests, Mrs. M. Collins and Mrs. M. Simmons of Detroit. . . .

THE ALLEY'S COTTAGE, one of the largest and most well-built, was full from beginning to the end. . . . Hosts were: Mr. and Mrs. William Alley. . . . Guests. . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Alley of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Chicago, Mrs. Ora Willard, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Marlan Harrison, Mrs. Addie Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Head, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rowley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Roy Howard, Mr. Malone, Maclean Martin, Miss Adline Starks, Jesse Twines and party, all of Indianapolis; Mrs. Beulah Pettiford, Marion.

Next door to ALPHA ALPHA COTTAGE—Oh! pardon me, please, I have not told you about ALPHA ALPHA COTTAGE, HAVE I? My mistake—Well, it goes like this. . . . On one Saturday morning in 1936, about six members of Alpha Alpha chapter of the IOTA PHI LAMBDA SORORITY piled in "Evelina" (the car belonging to Mrs. Marion Grubbs) huggable and all, and started to Indiana's great summer resort, FOX LAKE. . . . Certain it would not take over four hours to arrive at their destination, they stopped here and there and, what you may call "killing time", eventually arriving at said summer resort at 6:30 Saturday evening instead of two or three o'clock that afternoon. . . . Upon tell our experience, the first thing a friend remarked, "Um, what did you do, walk!" In the party were: Mrs. Winifred Davis, chapter president; Miss Esther Porter, 1st vice president; Miss Louise Fields, 2nd vice president; Miss Cordelia Jamon, recording secretary; Miss Cora Cooper, journalist; Mrs. Marion Grubbs, financial secretary, and Miss Ethel Ransom, guest. . . . Back to the cottage next door, we find Miss Octavia Bigbee, William Mallory, Mrs. Lucy Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkingsham, Mr. and Mrs. Ulice Stephens, Miss Drucilla Mallory, Elkhart, Battle Creek, Mich., Jake Williams, Miss Drucilla Mallory, Elkhart, Indiana; Mrs. Edith White, Indianapolis; James Hill, Anderson, and John Brown, Anderson, the party came in Sunday evening and did they have a grand time. . . . On the other side we found Mr. and Mrs. Gene Burnett, who treated us with royalty, and they seemed to be having the time of their lives, they were there for about two weeks.

OTHER PERSONS ENJOYING THIS GRAND OUTING WERE: Bert Ransom, J. Wesley Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McWilliams, George McWilliams, Indianapolis; Mrs. M. Gaskin, Mrs. Edward Walters, Madam C. P. Smith, Mrs. Ella Willardson, J. O. Stubbs of Kokomo; Mr. and Mrs. Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelley, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Helen and Thomas Kelley, Oxford, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burkin and son, Aubrey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson, Misses Cordelia Harris, Dorothy, Elizabeth Harris, Matthew Jeter, Carl Wiley, Walter Martin, and Master Lucius Garner of Toledo.

I HAVEN'T TOLD YOU THAT WE WERE IN HEAVEN WHILE THERE. In fact, we were invited to attend a party there and really it was HEAVEN. Heaven is the name of the cottage owned by MRS. MINNIE EASLEY, manager of the Easley Funeral Home in Toledo. In her party were: Forrest B. Whitaker, Jr., Charles Clark, Miss Marie Lee and mother, Robert Thornton, Miss Margaret Hodges, John Adams, John Ward, Mr. and Mrs. James Hodges, John Key Clark, Charles Woodson, Orie Ramsey.

MR. AND MRS. ROMEO WILLIAMS AND PARTY were also seen lounging and enjoying the outing. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Marsh, Miss Opel Adams, and William Broadax of Anderson with Miss Rocella Gaddie of Indianapolis were in a happy party. . . .

Interest High In Wyleaway Bridge Club Tournament At Y. W. C. A

Advance inquiries indicate that all available space in the Phyllis Wheatley Jordan Hall will be taken to accommodate those interested in this fair competitive bridge tournament for the champion bridge players of Indianapolis, according to the officers of the Wyleaway Bridge club in charge.

With new clubs calling for information and registration blanks and with many of the old clubs resuming their playing so as to ascertain who shall be the logical ones to represent them in this affair after a summer vacation, is a fair indication that this activity will be well attended. Although the tournament is not until October 16, and 23, applications not mentioned before in other issues of this paper are coming in at a very favorable rate.

Inquiries are running high as to who can play other than teams from clubs, and will it be a fair tournament.

As stated by those in charge, this is open competition for all comers and any two persons who care may team up and play for the trophy and prize money without belonging to any club whatsoever. care may team up and play for the belonging to any club whatsoever will eliminate all possibilities of any unfairness on the part of any one.

The plans are to make this a yearly affair sponsored by all of the clubs participating in this event through an executive committee of seven elected on the first night of the tournament. To date several clubs have suggested names for this office to be placed upon the ballot.

Dr. H. N. Middleton and E. L. Hendon are co-chairmen of this affair; Dr. Boyd Bell, secretary, and Robert Marbury, treasurer.

I wouldn't have allowed him to take any side in the political campaign if I had known about it. 'I don't think he's interested much one way or the other in politics. He told me he voted the Republican ticket but beyond that didn't pay much attention to politics. He's in the public hands now and can't be dabbling in political matters.'"

MAN, POLICEMAN WOUNDED IN FIERCE GUN DUEL

Listening in
MADISON, Ind. — Sometimes I would like to agree with W. E. Du Bois on his 49th state idea... But then I realize that to this fertile and unseasoned mind all things are not as bad as they seem... Here at Clifty Falls State Park one would get the idea that Indiana was a "lily white" state... You do not see a Negro in any capacity. Instead, my political friends tell me that the colored man in Indiana holds the balance of voting power. He should balance that power where it will do someone some good!... What a swell headache this beautiful place will be if we ever get a political mentor who has ideas other than replenishing his own coffers... Maybe he could swing it so Negroes could at least see in the dining room.

FOX LAKE
Life may begin at 40 or when you're in love... but from what they tell you Uncle Charlie, life really begins with a week-end trip to the Fox Lake resort... Some of these days your favorite author is going up there and do a column on the place. From latest reports 89.99 per cent. of Indianapolis' cream week-ends there, and what fun... Those who have gone are enthusiastic and usually go again and I understand there's a bit of gossip to be gleaned from the moonlit shores of the lake... What about it, Jake Williams... By way of report the Meta Hetrion club pitched a boogie-woogie there over the Labor Day holidays... They fairly lay their hair down—in a big way.

FURY
A bunch of the town's wags got playful with their beer the other dawning in a Main Stem suds joint... for a while, throwing beer on each other brought a big laugh... then the fun stopped and someone got mad... The only mug in the mob we recognized was George Clark.

HOPE DEPARTMENT
We've got our fingers crossed and we're hoping like mad that Robert George Dunn pulls through okay. As we race to our deadline (Tuesday) City hospital attaches were letting no one see the lad... In case you don't already know, he was in a fight Sunday night with a panny and you can guess up one for the panny... Instead of biting and scratching, he had a knife... George Harris had that new pin-striped suit torn to shreds in the melee.

ADD SAD PLIGHTS
The youngsters who'll have to abandon steady when they go such cases are numerous, and the way to different colleges... orb juice is flowing freely... James Wilson is attempting to re-enlist in the Grace Taylor league... But so far it's no go... What the freebie is on for Charlie Alexander with Mary Sims supplying the ice... Gene Williams and Ruth Hughes are causing this department to wonder... Wonder what was wrong with the chicken leg Catherine McCullough let fly into the plate of Lavonia Harding... Carl Smith, who has been taking his mail in Chi for the past six months, is back home and warns all interested in Martha Davis that he is about to match her from circulation... The stooges had more stuff to tell us about our boy Smitty than we were able to use. We have overworked him already... George Smith will be leaving for the South at about the time you've shot a jitney for this so the lassies are taking lower lips way out hay. George won numerals in parlor rugby this summer.

SORRY
Pearl Hamilton, whom we accused of wanting to ride a bicycle (although she had no such intentions) is back in the Community hospital. She was released from there some months ago and has been on the mend and now this... We wish her a speedy recovery.

NITE LIFE
Along comes a change in the seasons and what happens?... Everything gets up in the air and your poor night club reporter goes right up in the air too... What with this or that club closing and new spots being set up it takes a fellow with "Seven League" boots to cover his ground... But we do still get out among them and if you read us next week, we'll tell you just what's going on.

KNIFE SLASH CLAIMS EYE

MUNCIE, Sept. 10. — Slashing Eagle Butler, 33, 508 East Second street, across the forehead with a knife which caused the loss of the left eye, an assailant was still at large although it is reported that his identity is known to police. Butler was out once while fighting near his home.

"NEGRO ARABIAN JEW" FREED; SPEAKS SEVEN LANGUAGES

CHICAGO, Sept. 10. — (ANP)—Morris Levin, 28, who describes himself as a "Negro Arabian Jew" won his freedom on a disorderly conduct charge in Municipal court Thursday when he spoke seven languages of the 48 he said he knows.

Levin told Judge Gibson E. German he was born the son of a rabbi in Jacc Palestine. His father instructed him in languages and he works as a translator—when he can get it. He was arrested while loitering near his home on State street in the heart of the South-side.

Testing his linguistic claims, attorneys, litigants and spectators in the court talked with him in Gaelic, Polish, Italian, Hebrew, Hungarian, Albanian and Bohemian, and he conversed to the satisfaction of all. Levin fell down only in classic Latin and Greek. Spectators took up a collection for him when he was discharged.

PROMINENT NEW ALBANY WOMAN PASSES

NEW ALBANY, Sept. 10. — (Special)—Mrs. Rhoda Lindsey, widely known as one of Indiana's most prominent church and fraternal workers and business women, died at her home, 214 East Fourth street, August 24. She had been ill for some time, but her sudden passing was totally unexpected.

She had served admirably as corresponding secretary of the missionary department of Indiana Baptists for years; in the fraternal world, she was held in highest esteem by the Ruthies, and was treasurer of the burial board of the Household of Ruths, in addition to holding and having held several other positions in that order. Mrs. Lindsey was clerk of the local chapter of the American Woodmen.

In the business world, Mrs. Lindsey operated in a very efficient manner a beauty parlor, and it is said that her fine personality and genuine courtesy in combination with an unassuming and modest deportment left strongly favorable impressions with all the persons she met.

Funeral services were held at the Second Baptist church of which she was a faithful member, with Rev. J. J. Moore officiating, assisted by Rev. Williams, pastor of Lampton Street Baptist church. Many floral designs were tribute to her esteem, and were given by organizations from over all the state. Burial was in Louisville.

Survivors are the widow, Ireland Lindsey; a daughter, two sons, two foster children, Mrs. Mattie Hooby, Perry and Arlester Charles Marshall and Ireland Lindsey respectively.

E. J. Harper and Miss Lula Smith, of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Lena Harris, of Gary, were among those who attended the funeral.

CRASH DRIVER MAY BE HELD

EVANSVILLE, Sept. 8. — (SNB)—Continuing investigation of the crash which claimed the life of Reuben A. Warren, 409 Olive street, in a car-truck collision last Sunday, Coroner Charles J. Polz is reported as being at the point of demanding the arrest of James Hurd, 22, 802 Canal street, driver of the car in which young Warren was riding.

The milk truck was driven by John W. Lant, rural route 5, Lant and Miss Alice Withers, 21, colored, 409 Olive street, a passenger in Hurd's car, were injured and are in St. Mary's hospital. Hurd and Robert Dugy, 21, colored, 736 Olive street, riding with Hurd, were uninjured.

Coroner Polz said Hurd was driving his machine at a rapid rate north on Grand avenue at 4:45 a. m. Sunday when the car struck Lant's truck, which was traveling east on Monroe avenue. Warren, an ormer Lincoln high school football star, died at 7:12 a. m. Sunday in St. Mary's hospital. He suffered a crushed chest.

Funeral services for Warren will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday at St. John's M. E. church. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

DENIES JIM CROW, POLITICAL ROW INN OWENS RECEPTION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 11. — (ANP)—First hand information from members of the state committee for the home-coming reception of Jesse Owens, Ohio's Olympic hero and dean of track headliners brings to the front denials of a proposed political rift and the reported rumor of hotel discrimination in New York.

The state committee, the majority of whom were Negroes, when questioned as to their participation in the New York reception of Jesse Owens, stated that special consideration was given the Owens family by the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York and that Francis W. Poulson, who was reported as the instigator in the political rift between city and state factions, was not a member of the state reception committee but happened to be in New York on official business and was asked by Governor Davey to secure passes on the coast guard cutter for the Owens family and reception committee members.

Poulson knew nothing of the Cleveland committee plans. It was learned Poulson stated his participation in the entire matter was motivated by his personal interest and friendship of Owens and his being in position to secure passes for the party at the request of Davey. Mrs. Poulson honored Mrs. Jesse Owens with an elaborate dinner at the Hotel Biltmore on Saturday.

PAUL DEAN IS NAMED IN SUIT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 12. — (ANP)—Paul Dean, ace pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals baseball club, was named defendant in a $5,000 damage suit filed in the Circuit Court last Thursday by Mrs. Sally Hill, who was struck by Dean's automobile last Wednesday and seriously injured. Mrs. Hill suffered injuries to a hip, shoulder, back and side, which she stated were due to Dean's careless and negligent driving. The petition alleged that she was struck by the pitcher's automobile as she walked to a safety zone to board an east-bound street car. The suit is for the September term of court.

Tenn. Sheriff Shoes Three

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 10. — (ANP)—Three Negroes will be on the staff of J. Carroll Cate, Knox county sheriff who assumed office this week. Knoxville Negroes have long wanted representation on the detective force but none had been given prior to the election of Cate.

TWO WOUNDED IN GUN DUEL

MUNCIE, Sept. 5. — (SNB)—Wounded in the hand by a bullet from a police officer's gun during an exchange of shots in which the policeman received several slugs in the face, shoulder and right hand, Henry Crite, 816 North Brady street, surrendered to a police squad about half an hour following the disturbance. The policeman, who was sent to the Ball Memorial hospital, was not seriously wounded. It is reported. He was shot with a very old 12-gauge shotgun, single-barrel.

The battle took place about 11 o'clock at Macedonia and Highland avenues in Whitey. Crite participated in a fight with Jason Gill, 813 North Brady street, at the Carl Beatty beer tavern, Macedonia and Highland avenues, at about 10:30 o'clock and was returning from his home with the shotgun, allegedly to kill Gill, when intercepted by Officer Evans.

A radio call was broadcast to a police cruiser telling of a fight in Whitey.

As he was near that place, Evans increased the speed of his police car and reached the place of the reported trouble, only to find that the fight had ended.

Bystanders told the officers it was "just a little friendly fight," and that the participants had left. Officer Evans turned his car north into Macedonia avenue en route to his first destination and met a car coming from the north without lights.

The car, driven by Crite, stopped in the shadow of a group of trees near the intersection and he got out, pulling a shotgun from the seat beside him. As the man ran toward a tavern across the street Evans wheeled his car, sped across Highland avenue and stepped into the street, between the man and the beer tavern.

Evans jumped behind a small tree, snatched his body, and called to Crite, who was advancing across the street, to drop his shotgun and halt.

Instead, Crite advanced swiftly, throwing his gun to his shoulder as he came. Evans fired first, and the man staggered, but raised his gun and fired at Evans. He was barely thirty feet away, and the police officer staggered and said, "He winged me!"

As Evans bullets whipped about him Crite reloaded his shotgun and sent a second heavy charge tearing into the tree that partially sheltered the officer. This charge missed its mark.

Despite the fact that his gun hand and arm caught the full force of the blast, Evans continued firing while Crite retreated across the street toward his automobile.

As Evans fumbled in the darkness with his injured hand to reload his gun, the man disappeared into the shadows about his automobile.

At that moment Officers Claude "Hope" Mullen and Clifford Brown, in the squad car that had been dispatched to the scene originally, arrived and the three officers separated and began closing in on the automobile. Crite left the car as the officers approached and slipped away in the shadows.

A crowd of colored people in the Beatty pool room refused to call an ambulance for the injured Evans and refused to tell the location of the telephone, and Evans was driven to the hospital in the scout car.

As the scout car left, Officers Mullen and Brown entered the beer tavern to telephone their headquarters, and Ed Chaney, a colored man living nearby, hurried to the scene and called the fallen officer.

At that Officer Mullen knocked him down and was forced to draw his revolver to protect himself and his fellow officer from other occupants of the place. Chaney was taken to jail and slated as a suspect.

Returning to headquarters, Officers Mullen and Brown were joined by Detectives August Felix and

YOU MUST REGISTER!

Proper Registration is essential. Until the individual is fully registered according to the law of his community, boiling over on the racial issues and such like has all the hiss of unharmed escaping steam.

For years the biggest demonstration against many ills labeled harmful and unfair has been made on street corners or wherever the mood struck—except at the polls. The logical thing, the "must" thing to do is to seize all possible advantages offered to protest irritating conditions, to correct restrictive bounds set for the colored people is a resort to the ballot.

More than ever in recent years it is vital and mandatory that all available vote-power be marshalled to fling into the political scrap this year. There are one hundred and one good reasons; there are two best reasons and they are: to gain equal and fair representation in the full expression of American life; the second: to decide by popular acclaim just where we are going, whether we shall foster reaction, progress or whatever.

Any person failing to register to the end that he may have voice in the charting of his governmental course is doing less than his patriotic, racial, community duty.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

Despite all their flutter, and fanaticism for detail, women in politics are quite capable of tremendous work and a degree of enthusiasm rarely enjoyed by men. Possibly this fierce delight comes because the dear ladies are naturally scrappy, out-weighting men two to one in belligerence.

Fighting, enthusiasm, hard work are the stuff of politics and increasingly the women of this community are realizing and capitalizing upon this knowledge. The little-exploited field of almost unlimited influence which is open to women will one day be the deciding factor in political activity.

Women endow an issue with all the spirit of the old crusades and are as zealous and merciless in pursuit of their objectives. Possibly because of their political naivete they do not sell-out as quickly or easily as men; whatever the reason they are more interested in principles in governmental operation than most men. Time, however, and becoming thoughtfully at home in the game may alter these things.

Drudges by hundreds of years of habit, they are not unused to the wheel-horse kind of work so essential in the good old circus or politics. An earnest, informed approach in addition to their natural equipment would result in a decidedly different color and behavior. Women can certainly equal men in these campaigns and, if there is truth in the statement that the dear ladies are of keener intelligence, they can with little effort surpass their lords in flavoring the political pie.

THIS HOLDS EQUALLY FOR TAXIS

In a recent study of American highways, with particular attention paid to the relation of roads to safe driving, the magazine Fortune said: "The cold fact is that traffic today is a combination of an eighty mile an hour car in the hands of a twenty mile an hour driver, struggling to adjust itself to a thirty mile an hour road."

There is little we can do about the car in this case—its speeds will continue to increase, and the automotive engineers have done wonders in improving the "safety factor"—brakes, lights, steering mechanisms and body construction approach perfection.

There is something we can do about the highway, as the article shows. It says that half of the roads of the country are obsolete. It points out that engineers have devised the model highway of the future—a road with over and under passes at intersections, with a wide dividing island down the sections, with a dividing island down the center to prevent head-on crashes, and with separate lanes for slow and fast traffic. Such highways will be built—but their cost is gigantic, technical problems are involved, and it will be many years before the mileage of such super highways will amount to much in relation to the total mileage of all roads.

So in the meantime, about all we can do about the automobile accident problem is to work on the twenty mile an hour driver with his eighty mile an hour car. We must revise and make more stringent our licensing laws—it is an undeniable fact that a very high percentage of present drivers are incapable of operating their vehicles safely under modern traffic and road conditions. We must keep our traffic laws up to date, and we must enforce them without fear or favor. We must improve the personnel of highway patrols and, in many states, greatly increase the number of men on the force. The best highway patrolman alive cannot prevent accidents, or apprehend many reckless motorists if he has hundreds of miles of road to cover.

The human element is responsible for the great majority of accidents. We must make it impossible for the twenty mile an hour driver to operate his car at eighty miles an hour on a thirty mile an hour highway.

YOUNG AMERICA GOES TO SCHOOL

This week the doors to schools in the city were thrown open to thousands of youngsters who to be educated in the best of American tradition. We know they will be for we have been told that by many, many persons who in their respective ways and earnestness have purged the schools and preserved inviolate the right to learn musty out-of-date practices. Beyond learning to sign their names on credit applications, reading street signs and counting change, the average one will be just what our predecessors have been—good, staunch and honest folks, trained in the best American tradition, but staid and unimaginative.

To fulfill the destiny of this great country, the same hardy spirit of the old-time pioneer must be in evidence, the same lusty enjoyment of adventure must run high, else we remain the same stupid little beetles, trailing our lives in the dust of sluggish life. True, little of the geographical frontier remains, but it is no less true that the present frontiers are just as challenging, equally adventurous because of uncharted trails, and more laden with dynamite because the fight is in the dark and the stake is the perpetuation of human life on a dignified plane.

Let then young America think. Let it think free and untrammelled of your dogmas. Let Young America grow mentally tall and strong in the sun of honest, seeking street signs and counting change, the

JEWISH WAR VETERANS CONDEMN SNUB OF J. OWENS

HOBOKEN, N. J., Aug. 21.—The official resolution adopted by the Jewish War Veterans of New Jersey condemning the snub of Jesse Owens, American Olympic champion, by Chancellor Hitler was released this week by Adjutant Isidore Dworkin by order of Commander David Coyne.

In addition to a severe condemnation of the insults offered American Negro athletes in Berlin, the resolution urges that in future the Olympic Committee secure a pledge from the host nation that all athletes will be treated in a sportsmanlike manner. The text of the resolution:

Whereas, Adolph Hitler, the German Olympic games is to promote true sportsmanship, and foster closer fellowship between the nations of the world, and

Whereas sportsmanship should not, and in the United States does not, know any distinction or discrimination because of an athlete's color, creed or race, and

Whereas the American team to Berlin was composed of athletes of all colors, creeds, and

Whereas Adolph Hitler, the German Fuehrer inaugurated on the first day of the meet, the practice of personally greeting and congratulating the winners of each athletic event, and

Whereas Adolph Hitler avoided greeting the American Colored Champion Jesse Owens, who was a winner in the first day of the meet, and

Whereas some of the outstanding athletes representing the United States in the Olympics were of the Negro or colored race, and

Whereas the definite and repeated snubbing by Adolph Hitler of these supreme colored champions, was an affront to all sports-loving Americans

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Department of New Jersey, Jewish War Veterans of the United States (in council assembled at New Brunswick, New Jersey, this tenth day of August, 1936, that we severally condemn the attitude and action of spokesman and representatives of the German Government and the Olympic Games, for their gross lack of sportsmanship and decency in affronting America's supreme colored athletes, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that as a condition of America participating in any future Olympic Games, the Olympic committee procure a pledge from the sponsoring nation that all athletes participating shall be treated equally and in sportsmanlike manner, irrespective of their race, color, or religion, and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the American Olympic Committee to the press of the world.

CRUISING 'ROUND

By LEE J. MARTIN

SOME HAVE said that the President's parade through Indiana avenue did not bring sufficient plaudits from the onlookers. If this is true, it was not due to any lack of enthusiasm. People do not stand for hours to see what they are not interested in. Difficulty in identifying the President's car and the speed of the procession caused a delayed applause. Then the fact that Mr. Roosevelt is the first President to parade Indiana avenue was so awesomely impressive until applause was forgotten by many, nevertheless, the flags, the music and the cheers showed the Avenue's appreciation for such a signal honor from a President of the United States.

THIS "SHOT IN ARM" prosperity talk has developed to just so much chatter. Prominent newspapers and orators take up the word of financier Al Smith, and retell and rewarn us that although prosperity is here it cannot last. They point back to selected bits of history to prove that our present prosperity is of insound character. Prosperity is the fact that merchants and industrialists are putting into concrete and lasting construction money from this so-called "shot in arm" prosperity. Scanning the economic history of our country we find all prosperity to be a more or less decrease the "shot in arm" variety.

STEAMBOATS produced a period of prosperity, and railroads, cotton gins, electricity, radios, gold rushes, airplanes, oil wells, wars, automobiles, war finance corporations, and other inventions, discoveries and inventions produce their "shot in arm" prosperity and the nation rolled over the hills of prosperity and the valleys of depression to ultimate world leadership in material wealth. Wealth soaked in the tears of human sacrifice, wrapped in the bands of injustice and intrigue, dipped in the blood of our fathers and sons. Thus we have paid a dear, perhaps a too great a price for our past "shot in arm" prosperity, but was then not willing to let it go from the press. Admitting that this "shot in arm" prosperity is better because it endeavors to eliminate the "human cost" of former "shot in arm" prosperity.

THIS WEEK thousands of children trek back to halls of education, the various units of government spend millions of dollars training the youth of the nation unit to operate the government that they are supposed to perpetuate. If our system of government is the best on earth then every detail should be fully taught in our schools from the beginning to the end, on the same hand it should be able to stand comparison with any other system, therefore all systems of government should be taught so that the student can see the advantage of our system over any other.

A WHITE TENANT was threatened with being ousted from his home, the landlord told him he had to get out—the tenant told his landlord that he would vacate the next day, as a man was coming to move him. Whereupon the landlord inquired as to the amount the delinquent tenant was going to pay for moving. The tenant said that his moving expense would be a motorist from letting his foot heart softened and he replied, "Give me the twenty-five cents and stay another week." The tenant acquiesced, thus reducing his rent from forty cents to twenty-five cents a week by being always ready to move the day after the landlord's visit. It would be difficult to figure a low cost housing project to fit such a community, but no such conditions should prevail in wealthy, modern America.

LOOKING FROM the Yellow Bridge west on Michigan street is beautiful to behold, the rough brick and slabstone thoroughfare has been replaced by a smooth, wide street. You can hardly blame a motorist from letting his foot rest a little heavy on the gas. It would be a chosen pleasure if trackless trolley traversed such smooth roadways, instead of the chuck holes they now bump and bobble over.

THE WORLD IN REVIEW

By FRANK MARSHALL DAVIS (For ANP)

PICKING COTTON BY MACHINE

In a Mississippi cotton field last week 200 persons gathered to watch a machine which may soon directly change the destinies of 9,000,000 American citizens, half of them Negroes. It was the Rust cotton-picking machine which in a day may do the work of 82 laborers at one-fifth the present cost. The development of this machine into a completely foolproof and reliable mechanism may affect every Negro in America. Southern observers predict the migration of displaced Negro labor into Northern industrial centers with a consequent effect on the labor market and an increase in interracial friction above the Mason and Dixon line which invariably follows an increase in population.

Still, its perfection should be hastened. Advantages of this machine far outweigh its social implications and a consequent loss of jobs to 9,000,000 people. Many of the Negroes who would be thrown out of work are so badly off anyway that any change would be for the better.

Since the introduction of slavery the great cotton area of America's South has been our national sore. It has moved centuries behind the rest of the nation with the sharecropper-plantation owner relationship a throwback to medieval times. Constitutional amendments of the Civil War era have merely changed the name of slavery to that of peonage with business going on as before.

At present several million black men, women and children live a hand-to-mouth existence in the disease ridden shacks of darkest Dixie. They were born in debt and may die in debt. Many of them cannot leave their open. They are at the lowest economic level in America. Nothing that can be done will make their condition worse.

On the other hand, these people if replaced can hardly be expected to wander aimlessly about the land in leaderless droves. Not all will want to migrate northward and hope for jobs in the big industrial centers. Many of them deprived in youth of educational opportunities, will be unable to do anything but simple farm work.

It will, then, be up to society at large and the government to solve the problem of their future. This is a job society has steadfastly neglected and the government is just getting around to solve with homesteaded subsistence projects, proposed federal financing of small farms through such legislation as the Bankhead bill, and a conference of Southern governors called for the future by the chief executive of the state of Arkansas.

Absorption of the millions of black and white cotton pickers should be no difficult job nor one to rival with special alarm. Throughout the world there are placed with highly mechanized methods and other localities specializing in hand labor. It is no secret that in those lands and countries where machines have replaced hand labor the general welfare is at its highest; in backward and unmechanized lands such as interior China find poverty and suffering at its greatest. Even in America the industrialized North is so superior in living conditions and progress to the hard laboring South as to make any comparison odious.

Certain Southern whites want this new invention smashed to smithereens immediately because its wide use will readjust the economic life of that section. They foresee nothing but calamity in the displacing of workers. They are content to go as their fathers did and their fathers before them. The industrial revolution of England was fought against for the same lazy reason but today that island supports a population never dreamed of in pre-revolution days. Invention of the lino type machine several decades ago was bitterly resented by printers who set type by hand. Yet only through the lino type and the amazing decrease in production cost is this and other newspapers of many pages able to be published. Economists agree that any unemployment created by labor-saving devices is more than compensated by new employment which they eventually create both directly and indirectly.

No person regrets the invention of Eli Whitney's cotton gin which supplanted hand labor in picking seeds out of cotton, the spinning machines which permit one girl in a textile mill to spin as much in one day as could 35,000 by hand, or the wheat harvesting and threshing machines which have reduced labor on the operations involved by about 84 per cent, as compared with the binder and stationary thresher. Since their invention people have botched along better than ever before.

There is no sensible reason why several million people in one section of the country should live in poverty and be forced to depend upon hand labor methods to supply them with what little sustenance they obtain. The United States has enough land and natural resources to enable every family to live decently, enjoy a steady income, have modern equipment and many luxuries with only a few hours work per day were the government to give sociologists and economists a free hand in bringing about such reform.

The perfection of the Rust cotton picking machine may as well be prepared for. The time draws close when it will revolutionize against it will not halt the eventuality. Southern Negroes stand to prosper as that section begins to keep pace with the rest of America.

At night when the stars come out,

ROMANTIC FEST DESCRIBED BY TRAVELLER

By WILLIAM PICKENS (For ANP)

In the Hawaiian village, maintained for historic information, and for profits, near Waikiki Beach, is still celebrated "the luau." This is a great dinner and dance, a feast followed by the Hula. The Hula was originally a sacred dance, done only in the worship and finally to the native public. A hundred years ago the king ordered great luau as he moved from island to island: plenty of poi was pounded out from the taro tubers, pigs and dogs were roasted, fruits and drinks of all kind gathered. The king and his big men and the favored portion of the populace stretched themselves on mats and ate their fill. Then the young men and maidens danced the hula, with sinuous arms, boneless hips and expressionless faces which seemed to have no relation to the rest of the writhing bodies.

It was the king's attempt to reproduce in this "Hawaiian village." In the old days the luau was hospitality, free entertainment to all (after the king's agents had ferreted out and taken from the people the necessary dogs and pigs to be roasted). But now it's only pig, poi, and other edibles sanctioned by later custom. They charge a good price of admission now; no longer is it hospitality. The spokesman, a man or woman of the older Hawaiian generation, will tell you how they are preserving the ancient "culture" and trying to bring back the "glory that was Hawaii," before the mahinis (newcomers) arrived. And I noticed that the money "take" at these shows and jamborees is from the mahini: evidently the general Hawaiian people are not interested in preserving their ancient culture—except that section of them who are hired for wages to take part in this show.

But it's a great show: first an older leads us around from house to house in the village, explaining—the worship place, with its gargoyle-like God, the men's grass hut, the women's grass hut, the work huts. Then we are led to the feast place, a great grass pavilion. For three hours the pig has been roasted, under a pile of rocks and it leaves. This leaf of the ti is used as a wrapper in the preparation of all sorts of food; your rice or "greens" (the taro tops) or fish may come to you, pinned or rolled up in it. Then the feast begins. We are permitted to eat. We are permitted to see the young man, dressed only in the "malu" or loin cloth, uncover the roasted pig; he pulls away the steaming ti leaves, and discloses a pig, surrounded on all sides by sweet potatoes and covered and stuffed with hot rocks. These rocks were heated in a nearby fire, and placed about the pig and stuffed inside of it, and the great bushels of potatoes were arranged about the pig and the rocks, the green ti leaves carefully laid on and the top covered with earth. It is remarkable how long those rocks keep hot, thus

After the feast we all repair to seats in the open space of the village, before the long platform on which the Hula Dancers, little girls in early teens and buxom maidens in late twenties, and some boys and men, are to perform, while the musicians make Hawaiian music. YOUR HEALTH

DON'T SUFFER HAY FEVER

Much foolish advice is given to the sufferer from hay fever, but recovery is really very easy to bring about and depends entirely upon dietetic treatment. The person who has a tendency to this disorder must first cleanse the blood stream by a short fast of a few days, during which time he avoids his ordinary food.

The plain water fast is often advisable and the patient is told to drink an abundance of distilled water. It is important to take at least one plain warm water enema each day while on the water fast. The congestion in the mucous membrane of the nose will be particularly relieved if the patient stimulates the skin elimination by using two sponge or shower baths daily, following the bath with a vigorous, rub-down with a rough towel. The treatment will speed up the activity of the millions of pores of the skin and will help to rid the body of waste material, thus relieving the mucous membrane of part of its burden.

It is surprising how quickly hay fever will disappear during this regimen but the patient must persevere if the disorder is chronic, as the membrane has been literally soaked in mucus for years and has practically become an eliminative organ.

I have received many letters from readers telling me of recoveries from hay fever, and the excellent results secured have followed in many cases in spite of the fact that the patient had had hay fever for many years. This is one disease in which the average patient may expect a noticeable improvement if he will carry out directions exactly as they are given, even though a slight change in the diet may prevent the desired results.

The change back to normal is sometimes slow and can not be hurried. The old one told us that they could cook another meal on those same hot rocks, if only they would re-bury them now, after extracting the pig and the potatoes. We sit at tables (the Hawaiians formerly sat on mats on the ground) we proceed to eat—and are supposed to use only fingers, even to dip into the guile poi and fetch it to the mouth. But there are knives, forks and spoons nearby for such as prefer them. Before eating, we each dip our fingers into little individual finger bowls of water, to wash them. Then a sort of Hawaiian pineapple, one big bowl, of the Hawaiian Board of Health has something to say about these modern imitations of the old luau.

It is not possible to make you realize what that dinner is, with old Hawaiian diet reproduced as faithfully as possible: a bowl of poi, a little dish with a piece of dried fish, some brown poi, and some dried tea wood in which you can taste the salt of the ocean; some delicious "Hawaiian pineapple" (taro tops) rolled in a ti leaf, and a fish mixture baked in another leaf; a bit of salmon salad, some white potatoes chipped native style, and some of the great sweet potatoes roasted with the juice, a sort of pineapple, pineapple pudding, and finally a good dish of that pig meat. This is eaten to music made by young men and maidens who sit at the edge of the luau hut and sing and make music with ukelele, drum and guitars. One of them walks monkey-fashion right up one of the tallest coconut trees and throws down a coconut, to show how that is done. Before dinner an old priest of 92 years has chanted from his hut the religious poetry which he chanted long ago as high priest at the court of King Kalahaua.

After the feast we all repair to seats in the open space of the village, before the long platform on which the Hula Dancers, little girls in early teens and buxom maidens in late twenties, and some boys and men, are to perform, while the musicians make Hawaiian music. The thing begins any description. There are torch lights. The arms of some of the expert girl dancers seem to flow with the ease of water waves from shoulder and elbow to finger tips. It is hard to tell just where the joints are. They do not wear grass skirts, but beautiful skirts of ti leaves, split so as to look like large, waving grass. In fact the grass skirt is not Hawaiian, but is a fashion brought in from some of the other Pacific islands, and if you want to know it, the grass skirts that are now sold in Hawaii are manufactured in Jersey and shipped here—to be sold, and often re-shipped to New York.

One white girl was just "graduating" in the Hula, and is sailing back to California tomorrow. The only time these dances look vulgar is when some non-native persons tries to perform them in mahini clothes; the movements look vulgar in ordinary dresses, but there is no suggestion of vulgarity in those ti leaf dresses or grass dresses. In native dress, the thing is artistic, beautiful and the little children are among the best performers.

These hula dances tell each a story: of history, or of exploits, or of individuals. They did the Queen Liliuokalani dance, and you could see the dancer's fingers pointing out the cheeks, the lips, the hair, the dress and the beautiful breasts of the queen, and finally with snake-like arms, imitating the queen passing through a flower plot, picking flowers. I never knew from imitations in the United States, that the hula dance tells a story, some story, which the dancers and the audience read from the movements and understand. Sometimes the singing of the words of the story accompanies the dancing. The announcer may tell you what is going to be danced, just as we tell what a speaker is going to speak about. There was the dance of Madam Pele (the goddess of the volcanic crater). They evidently try to make Pele and one maiden is ready to fling herself into the burning pit.

But it is pathetic as a plan "to revive Hawaiian culture," though good as a show. They might as well try to compete with machine-made poi by pounding poi with their great stones, as in 1836.

hastened by any local treatment, except perhaps, the daily application of the ultra violet ray to the nose. This treatment will often assist in bringing about a healthier condition of the nasal membrane.

The diet after the water fast should be entirely free from starches and sugars and it may be necessary to omit these foods for some time. It is especially advantageous to avoid any food made from white flour or white sugar while the case is being attempted. In most cases it is advisable to avoid milk; however, a reasonable amount of butter may be used as seasoning on the cooked vegetables. A sample diet which will prove satisfactory in the majority of cases is as follows:

Breakfast—The white, but not the yolk, of 2 eggs, cooked in any manner except by frying; a large dish of cooked, non-starchy cooked vegetables; not over 3 or 4 stewed prunes.

Lunch—A raw salad of leafy vegetables, also a cooked vegetable from the following list: Celery, spinach, small string beans, asparagus, summer squash, cucumber, eggplant, beet tops, turnip tops, small beets, small carrots, small turnips, pumpkins, okra, and zucchini.

Dinner—Choice of cooked and raw vegetables as at lunch; and in addition one-quarter pound of lean beef, chicken, turkey, fresh fish, rabbit or mutton.

These rules are very easily followed and you may expect good results in every case of hay fever where there is not present a mechanical obstruction of the nasal passages.

Even though you are not suffering from hay fever at present, you can largely prevent its future occurrence through the following regimen suggested.

buried. The old one told us that they could cook another meal on those same hot rocks, if only they would re-bury them now, after extracting the pig and the potatoes. One of them walks monkey-fashion right up one of the tallest coconut trees and throws down a coconut, to show how that is done. Before dinner an old priest of 92 years has chanted from his hut the religious poetry which he chanted long ago as high priest at the court of King Kalahaua.

After the feast we all repair to seats in the open space of the village, before the long platform on which the Hula Dancers, little girls in early teens and buxom maidens in late twenties, and some boys and men, are to perform, while the musicians make Hawaiian music. The thing begins any description. There are torch lights. The arms of some of the expert girl dancers seem to flow with the ease of water waves from shoulder and elbow to finger tips. It is hard to tell just where the joints are. They do not wear grass skirts, but beautiful skirts of ti leaves, split so as to look like large, waving grass. In fact the grass skirt is not Hawaiian, but is a fashion brought in from some of the other Pacific islands, and if you want to know it, the grass skirts that are now sold in Hawaii are manufactured in Jersey and shipped here—to be sold, and often re-shipped to New York.

One white girl was just "graduating" in the Hula, and is sailing back to California tomorrow. The only time these dances look vulgar is when some non-native persons tries to perform them in mahini clothes; the movements look vulgar in ordinary dresses, but there is no suggestion of vulgarity in those ti leaf dresses or grass dresses. In native dress, the thing is artistic, beautiful and the little children are among the best performers.

These hula dances tell each a story: of history, or of exploits, or of individuals. They did the Queen Liliuokalani dance, and you could see the dancer's fingers pointing out the cheeks, the lips, the hair, the dress and the beautiful breasts of the queen, and finally with snake-like arms, imitating the queen passing through a flower plot, picking flowers. I never knew from imitations in the United States, that the hula dance tells a story, some story, which the dancers and the audience read from the movements and understand. Sometimes the singing of the words of the story accompanies the dancing. The announcer may tell you what is going to be danced, just as we tell what a speaker is going to speak about. There was the dance of Madam Pele (the goddess of the volcanic crater). They evidently try to make Pele and one maiden is ready to fling herself into the burning pit.

But it is pathetic as a plan "to revive Hawaiian culture," though good as a show. They might as well try to compete with machine-made poi by pounding poi with their great stones, as in 1836.

grapo in Buenos Aires. It was also understood that the Ellington aggregation will cost $30,000 a month for this South American trip. The date that they will leave the U. S. for this southern jaunt was not disclosed.

SWEARS IN FIRST COLORED MAGISTRATE IN N. Y. C. HISTORY

NEW YORK, Sept. 11—(ANP)—Myles A. Paige, 36 year old attorney and civic leader, was appointed Tuesday and sworn in Wednesday by Mayor LaGuardia as the first Negro magistrate in the city's history. He sat in court on his new $10,000 a year job which does not expire until April 30, 1945.

Appointment of the prominent Harlemite, who starred at end of the Howard university football team of 1920, is based on his professional standing and intimate knowledge of communal problems, Mayor LaGuardia said, adding that he had determined a year ago to name a Negro magistrate. The mayor's forward step has been widely acclaimed in Democratic circles.

At brief ceremonies in the summer City hall, the mayor said to the new appointee: "You have done some very valuable work for me in making surveys and making recommendations in important matters on which I had to make decisions. You just have to make good, because the attention of the city will be focused on you."

Difficult Job
"You will probably have a very difficult time, but you have the balance and the control to do the job. If you make good, the credit is all yours; and if you don't the fault is all mine for appointing you."

Present at the swearing-in ceremonies were his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Boyd Paige, who had been surprised "to an extent" at her husband's appointment, and their two daughters, Barbara, 7, and Betty, 2. After the event, Magistrate Paige went to the magistrate's office where he talked with Magistrate Charles Solomon, who sat with him for a few days at Harlem court.

Later, at home, the new jurist said the job was not difficult but "a heavy responsibility."

Admits More Burden

"I'll have more burden than if I was a member of one of the other races, which is natural, and which I am willing to assume," he said. "But I believe I can do the job as well as any other magistrate, and I don't mean by that to make the most convictions. I will try to look into causes and if possible bring a remedy."

Speaking of the problems of what he called "underprivileged Harlem" made so by economic conditions, he told Negro and white reporters: "Harlem has been libeled by newspapers as well as ind.

viduals—I don't believe intentionally by the papers.

Hits Daily Press

"I hope the papers will soon realize the harm they are doing the majority of the race when they put 'Negro' in the headlines of a crime story. When a good deed is done by a Negro, you seldom see it except in small type at the end of the article. Further, they don't consider the fact that a more heinous crime may have been committed by an Irishman, a Jew or an Italian. They don't mention the race."

Prominent and Active
Magistrate Perlman who was elevated to the Court of Special Sessions, received his A. B. degree from Howard university, where he played football. At New York he worked as a Pullman porter while studying law at Columbia university from his he received Bachelor of Laws and Master of Laws degrees. He was admitted to the bar in June of 1925 and at one time was a deputy attorney general here in charge of the Workmen's Compensation division.

He is also a Catholic and a member of the Fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus. He heads the North Harlem Community council, is a member of the Urban League, the National Executive Council and the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, the Guild of Catholic Lawyers, the New York County Lawyers' association and the Harlem Lawyers' association, is a commander of an American Legion post and vice commander of a disabled veteran's organization.

SPIRIT OF ROSENWALD CARRIES ON MEDICAL, EDUCATIONAL PLAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11—(By Albert G. Barnett for ANP)—Carrying on the great philanthropic work of the late Julius Rosenwald—a work characterized by the absence of racial or religious bias and based purely on principles of humanitarianism—the Julius Rosenwald Fund of this city, through its president, Edwin R. Embree, has just released its annual report, showing expenditures for the past fiscal year of $1,079,985, for the Fund's various programs of education and health.

Commenting on the work of the year, Mr. Embree said: "In medical services we have concentrated on making good medical care widely available to people of moderate and small means, taking special interest in pay clinics and other forms of organized medical services, and in extending the insurance principle to cover the uneven and unpredictable costs of sickness."

Aid Negro Centers of Higher Education

"In Negro higher education we are concentrating on the building up of four great university centers: Howard university in Washington, Atlanta university and affiliated colleges in Atlanta, Fisk university in Nashville, and the new Dillard university in New Orleans. Our chief work now is the development of rural education for both races in the South."

Sums of $250,000, $220,000 and $191,000 were devoted to general education, Negro university centers and medical services, respectively during the year, and the Fund also paid in full a number of funded pledges on which, during the depression it had been paying only the interest. Among these was one of $150,000 to Provident hospital, paying off the final mortgage on that institution. In addition, a bank loan and all outstanding indebtedness amounting to $608,544, were cleared off. The Fund held cash and securities of a market value of $5,649,334, at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1936.

Merchant Placed Philanthropy on Systematic Basis

During the active years of his life, as president of Sears-Roebuck and Co., when his private and public bequests were made on a nationwide scale, Mr. Rosenwald realized the necessity of public agencies and other large groups of concentrated population assuming their proportionate share of social responsibility for the health, education and general well-being of the individual.

In keeping with this plan of systematized giving he made large "contingent" grants to Negro schools, YMCA's and other institutions, the funds to be released to the community, institution or organization, when it had raised its proportionate share of the total sum needed.

In this manner Mr. Rosenwald made financial grants ranging from $5 to $5,000,000, to a great variety of institutions, but each was a personal contribution by a public-spirited man to a definite project, which after close examination he considered was financially sound, was performing some creditable public service and thereby worthy of his financial support. He considered that agency the most entitled to his aid which got 100 cents worth of social betterment out of every dollar he granted it.

Gave Away $70,000,000

It has been estimated that during his lifetime Mr. Rosenwald's philanthropies totaled the amazing sum of $70,000,000, but his best known grants, made sometimes in modest sums, were those scattered through the Southern rural districts in the interest of the general education of the Negro. One by one, he aided in the building and development of 5,357 individual school houses for Negroes in those communities where his benefactions came as a God-send, to lift the populace the veil of superstition and ignorance.

The great merchant prince and helper of mankind died Jan. 6, 1932, at his home in Ravinia, Ill. In keeping with his firm and long-established belief that a man's accumulation of wealth and resource during a generation, should be given back, during a generation, to society for its physical, social and economic betterment—he stipulated in his will that the Rosenwald Fund which he created, should complete its work and expend all its resources, within 25 years of his death. Thus, in 1957 will be written the final chapter in Julius Rosenwald's immortal Book of Philanthropy, and Time's immutable scroll shall bear the inscription: "That which he made, he gave back for the betterment of humanity."

PSYCHOLOGICAL ANALYSIS By Abbe Wallace
INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN MENTALIST

B. K.—Why is my boy friend so cross with me?

Ans.: Your boy friend doesn't like your children. You would be better off to discontinue your friendship with him, for you'll be making a mistake to marry someone who dislikes children as much as your boy friend does.

L. I. C.—Will you tell me what the future holds for me? I have been able to make hardly any success lately.

Ans.: The condition of your health will be much better in the future and this change for the better will enable you to carry on your work as you desire. You'll be very successful in the business world.

L. M.—I want to know if you will tell me where my husband's children are now?

Ans.: Your husband carried his children to the state of Virginia, and at this time they appear to be with his ex-mother-in-law. They get better care there than they did with your husband.

L. P. M.—Is the dear fat man I am so attached to interested enough in little me for me to hope for a divine future happiness with him?

Ans.: The fat man you are so attached to appears to be the most sincere man you have ever gone with. Your marriage to him will bring about the happiness you desire.

L. E. P.—If I make a change will I be able to find a better job? I would like to do some different kind of work.

Ans.: Although you have had ten years experience in house work, you will never be able to make any more money doing this work than you make now. If you would secure a position as stenographer, clerk in a store or child nursing, you could increase your income.

C. G.—I want to know if my husband will ever be all right. Please answer this in your column.

Ans.: I am sorry to say, but I do not believe your husband will ever regain his health completely. His mind hasn't been just right since he returned from the asylum the last time, and it is my impression that it will continue to come and go during the coming years.

B. D. S.—I have been married four months and I would like to know if I will ever have any children?

Ans.: Surely you will. However, you haven't been married long enough to consider child birth. I would advise you to wait until you and your husband have a little accumulated.

E. T. Y.—Does my husband love me enough to return home and resume the responsibilities?

Ans.: Your husband cares enough to return to you and live with you again, however, he doesn't love any woman enough to take the responsibility of a family and home.

M. C.—I am planning on leaving town. What do the dities that I have in mind do you think would be best for me to go to?

Ans.: I believe you will be more satisfied to go to Chicago rather than Oakland, Calif., or St. Louis, Mo. Your husband is now living in the city of Chicago, and has the influence to help you get a good job there.

B. B. W.—Do you think I should continue my musical education?

Ans.: By all means do so, for that will give you something to fall back on when you are out of work. Your music will mean a lot to you in the future as a side line, but I would advise you not to take it up as your life's work.

L. W.—Do you think this doctor really likes me or not?

Ans.: This doctor is merely trying to play up to you to get money out of you. You are old enough to know better than to lose your head over a man just because he says a few flattering words to you. Be true to your husband and hold on to him, because you know you can always depend on him.

ATTACKS GRIDDERS REPORT; OVATION GIVEN TEAM

HUSKY CANDIDATES REPORT FOR INITIAL DRILLS AT ATTACKS

Full practice officially started at Crispus Attucks high school under the direction of Coach Alonzo Watford with nearly forty huskies on the field limbering up for the hard tests for regular berths.

With an eye on the new Midwestern High School Athletic Association's championship, and very promising material to draw from, there looms a chance that the local "Little Green Wave" will bring home the bacon for 1936. Many regulars and reserves from last season are already on hand and several prospects have been uncovered and will be watched closely as the opening of the season nears.

Greater crowds than ever will jam the Crispus Attucks field to watch the various contests billed there, each an attraction within itself, the coach stated.

JOE LOUIS SOUGHT FOR BATTLE WITH BRITISH CHAMP IN JAN.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(By Rudolph Dunbar for ANP)—Efforts to match Joe Louis, of Detroit, in January with the new British Empire heavyweight champion, Ben Fjord, or Walter Neusel, of Germany, with a flat guarantee of approximately $75,000 were made last week by Trevor Wignall, sports editor of the Daily Express, in a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation with Mike Jacobs, of New York, head of the 20th Century Sporting club.

The original plan was to match Louis with Fjord. Jacobs first asked $100,000 but later said he would be willing to accept $75,000 with an additional $50,000 cent of receipts above $100,000.

Fjord, who recently whipped Jack Peterson for the title, was later found to be under contract for a fight in October or November, with Neusel. The biggest difficulty remaining is in staging the battle and promoting definite interest among Britishers should Neusel, another foreigner, win.

A contract is understood to have been sent to New York for the signature of Mike Jacobs and its return to London is awaited. The $75,000, if the bout goes through, is to be deposited in a London bank before the fight.

American Giants Enter Grid Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(ANP)—With many of the leading Negro grid stars of college reputation on hand, practice got under way Tuesday at American Giants baseball park for Chicago's professional football team of 1936, to be known as the Chicago American Giants Football club.

Among the former All-American gridiron athletes expected to be in readiness when the first game is played Sept. 20 are Shag Jones, halfback, Clark university, Atlanta; Pat McPherson, center, Wilberforce university, O.; and Tip O'Dell, halfback, Wiley college, Texas. Bacharach, Smith is coach.

A number of other stars have been contacted and it is expected the team will be the strongest ever assembled in Chicago.

LOCAL PILOT WILL DRIVE FAST MOUNT DURING GOLD AND GLORY RACES; OTHER PILOTS WANTED

Hoosiers have been gripped with the "race fever," advance tickets to the Gold and Glory Sweepstakes race to be held here September 20 are moving at a fast clip; with over 6,000 already sold and large batches still in demand from middle west sections assure the promoters of an overflow attendance.

Fan interest in the big gasoline classic will be centered around Charles Wiggins and other local drivers who will be contesting against a horde of out-of-town entrants who are out to win some of the "pot-of-gold" that awaits those who finish up in the money.

The 500 of sports and society will be rubbing elbows that big Sunday here from all sections of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan. The race will be to the Negro what the Memorial Day race at Speedway is to the white, or what the Kentucky Derby is to Louisville, a sporting attraction

SHOOTING THE WORKS

LEE A.

OPENING OF THE GRID SEASON

Football is going to attract more interest all over the nation than ever; competition will be tougher, schedules longer, and more titles hanging by a thin twine.

This reason is advanced because many schools were heavily hit by graduation and left more teams evenly balanced; this is true in both high schools and colleges, white and colored.

Many of the leading white collegiate teams will present Negroes who made their debut on the playing fields as reserves last year and regulars this season.

It shall be our intention to present our readers with interesting accounts of these players and games, from time to time, as the season progresses.

Right here at home we have our husky Crispus Attucks athletes who have earned a name for themselves in football and track. Our local team will seek their championship in the midwestern high school conference after tucking away the track diadem last spring.

We should turn out in droves and back our team to the limit, for some real football is on the schedule from the start until the end of the season.

Out in the state, other teams are looking forward to the same interests as those of Crispus Attucks which will make the race for the state title a tough one.

ETTORE HOPES TO BEAT JOE

On September 22, Al Ettore of Philadelphia hopes to repeat what Max Schmeling did to Joe Louis, land on the jaw with a right.

Ettore doesn't realize that the 20th Century club isn't particularly bothered about carrying him along with Schmeling and our guess is that Joe will cover all sides and land at will until his man is down and out for the count. Joe is unmistakably the greater fighter and is head and shoulders over all of this decade.

National Golf Champ Wants To Teach Local Women Fundamentals

new national champion among women golfers found the winning of the championship not so hard this year, although the Cobbs Creek course is one of the toughest in the country.

As to competition, she found her local rival, Mrs. Ella Abel, twice winner also of the national laurel her nearest competitor when the playing had ceased and the scores were being tabulated.

Mrs. Williams was elated over winning her championship, but all the while she was playing through the tournament, she had her mind on the many young women in Indianapolis who could be developed into first-class players with little instruction.

In an interview she aired the idea of getting some prominent person to donate a trophy for beginning women players to be given to the winner of a tournament in order to stimulate interest in starting the game.

Her plan is to get eight or ten young women under her wing early next spring, drill them thoroughly and conduct the tournament in order that the new players will get the experience of tournament play and test their golf knowledge.

It was pointed out that there are hundreds of young women who have the time and can afford this hearty recreation for the good of their own health and at the same time attain fame and glory.

She believes that our women can take to golf as women do in other races, but it seems that our folk will need more urging.

Indianapolis has produced more ranking women golfers than any other city in the country which is an honor within itself; there are many others who can share these honors by accepting the game as a sporting hobby and developing it. She stated that one can suc-

OWENS STEALS SHOW DURING WELCOME HOME DEMONSTRATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(ANP)—Jesse Owens, who has been occupying the spotlight all summer, again stole the show as Mayor LaGuardia greeted the returned Olympic athlete Thursday in behalf of the city at special ceremonies held before 2,000 at Randall's Island, where track and field athletes qualified before sailing for Berlin.

It was a spontaneous bit of generosity on the part of Owens that sent the slim crowd into its biggest and loudest cheers. He gave the first of the three gold medals he won single-handed at Berlin to Bill Robinson, world's greatest dancer, who is arranging Jesse's debut as a professional entertainer. Robinson himself holds the unofficial world's record for 100 yards run backward.

"An Olympic medal is the highest honor an athlete can win and I treasure mine above all my other possessions," Owens said, "but I want to make a presentation to Bill Robinson, the Mayor of Harlem, for all he has done for me and for all of us. I want to give him the first medal I won in the Olympic games."

The famous dancer was visibly moved by the presentation. He stammered out a few words of things. Robinson previously had acted as the city's representative in conferring medals on some of the athletes as had Jack Dempsey, Gertrude Ederle, the English channel swimmer, and other well-known figures in the sport world.

The celebration began with the arrival of the liner, Manhattan, of 81 members of the team which originally consisted of 380. Of these, 199 had already come back on the Roosevelt, others on other boats, and a few are still touring Europe competing in meets.

The new arrivals were met at the pier by earlier returners and

"And the Night Shall Be Filled With Music" ... Chin ... Swing ... And Sweet ...

Once in a Blue Moon comes those "Two For One Days" ... You know ... Comes Sunday and then a Holiday ... Boy-Oh-Boy, sometimes it causes me to shudder when on the following work day the week seems to have slipped away and Lo-and-Behold you find that the "Dusty-Time-Dope" is ... Much Indeed ... In the mouth of the street ... It's TOO MUCH ...

Chin ...

As word filters through the sieve that Eddie made history in issuing the ultimatum for certain people not to traverse the peaceful and quietude of (His) STREET?

The seniority in the Vanhorn's debutantes, Marion, 's all agog over that seal-skin brown out Nawth ... And it's not the one we think of in the terms of "Boot and Shoe" or something that gives a similar sound effect ...

Paul "Monie" Johnson is quite a fatalist and believes explicitly in the proverb, "Third Time Charm" ... Ah, you know ... He has to date squandered two frat pins on unappreciative young damsels ... Better luck this time ...

Harry Yanthis, who won the title around Coach Shellburne's Green Wave as "Cry-Baby", is gathering new laurels at Wiley as "Bulldog" Yanthis ...

Ray Coston pulled the best in many a moon (there goes that moon again) when the little lassie forgave him for not showing up "per-hour" to dash to Round-towners' Dawnin' Affair together ... But she let him take her back to the "Fire-Side" ...

It seems as if a certain young gent that in the past short period of eternity has been rather successful in maintaining a foot-hold (?) by two fire-sides ... Now, one of these fire-sides took a journey ... The gent dashes the other fire-side over to the journeying fire-side house to a get-together ... Now that is what you call a "Fire-Side Story" ... Lawd Today ...

The self appointed Band-master of the Q's makes hay while the sun shines ... He and the madam swung out at the Round-towners ...

It looks like another Casanova will enter the Ransom domain of things hold true to light with that Knox lad ...

Swing ...

What the "Darby" is to Louisville, what the Tusk-Force is to thousands, what the Davis Cup team is to America, the Gold and Glory Race will be to the Middle West when the last car has been rolled up to the mark and the starter's gun has been fired and a score of "Grease-Monkeys" start down that dirt track at the Fairgrounds, September 20th, to fame and fortune ... High hopes, high chances, hard driving, will be the itinerary for that brief period when one hundred miles will be driven in record time ... The crowd will be in a holiday mood—Forty-second Streeters to the Nth degree ... Everybody's going!

Matthew Dickerson will make history on the night of that gala occasion as being the first promoter to bring two of the best swing bands together in the greatest battle of swing any city west of Pittsburgh has ever seen in the annals of "SWING" ... Tate, the Chi favorite, Paige, Cincy's acclaimed one, will play to the Hoosiers as they glide and see the prizes awarded to those who "burt" the dirt at the Fairgrounds the same afternoon ... Damsels and a bevy of good-looking will welcome all ... Will you be there? ... And twenty million shake a leg trying to get there before nine ...

More Sweet Music ...

Joe Mitchell aces of rhythm rated with the top-notchers Labor Day when they played to the Boat-riders in ole K-Y ... They drew down a century and a half ... Note to the old heads ... Father Hines made only two century ... Whew ... Those Cats are going places ...

Barbara Simmons has gone back to the Motor City ... How she is missed ... Wonder what Frank (Dewesse) Thompson thinks? ...

A Short Short Story ...

It's sixteen-ten now, whispers the man at the shooting gallery now ... No more chalked signs proclaiming to the world what they pay off to the "winna" ...

JOE GLASER SIGNS UP "THREE ESQUIRES" SNAPPY DANCE TEAM TO TRAVEL WITH ARMSTRONG

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—The Three Esquires, sensational dance trio, will tour with Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong starting this week. Joe Glaser, manager of the famous trumpet player, Louis Armstrong, caught their clever dance act and immediately signed them for a fall run.

Mr. Glaser, who has successfully piloted Louis Armstrong, promises a great career for the three lads. They just closed here after a record-breaking run at Jack Hecht's Cedar Gardens. The boys were discovered by Larry Steele, nationally known master of ceremonies who took them on the road under the name of the "Three Pinktops."

Harlems' "Macbeth" Scores In Windy City

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(ANP)—"Macbeth," the WPA federal theatre production now showing in Chicago at the Great Northern theatre downtown, is making theatrical history with one especially important "first," according to John D. Silvera, road agent for the federal theatre and a graduate of Lincoln university in Pennsylvania.

This is the first time in history that an all-Negro Shakespearean play has been sent out on the road. Mr. Silvera said. It is also the largest and most elaborate Shakespearean production ever to tour.

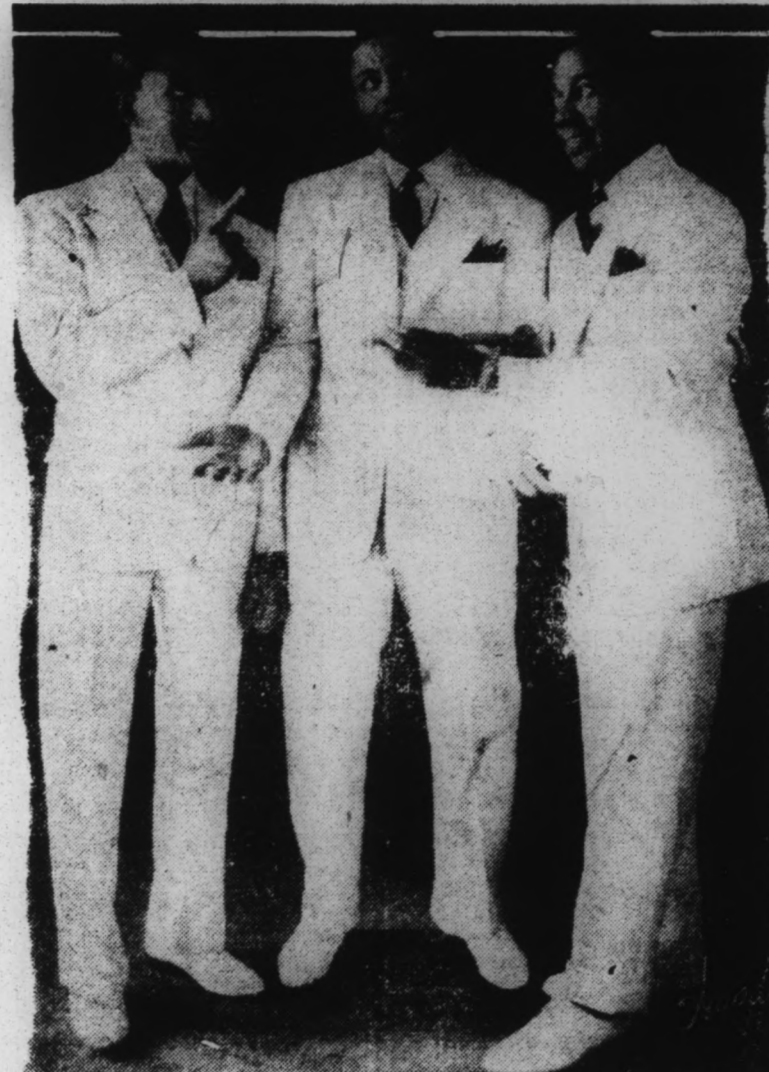

Oscar Welles white Chicagoan who adapted and directs the Negro version of "Macbeth" has as his assistant one of the ablest colored technicians of the day. Mr. Silvera pointed out, Edward Perry, who was also stage manager for "Four Saints in Three Acts." Another Negro, Thomas Anderson, is really the director behind "Macbeth" and is so well versed in the production he is said to be able to act anyone's part at a moments notice.

At Indianapolis, where colored are not permitted at downtown theatres to sit downstairs, "Macbeth" broke tradition and played to an audience mixed over the entire house. The three colored advance men, Harold Lane, Matt Meeker and Silvera, are credited with bringing about this change.

"SATCHMO" TO TOUR TEXAS

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—Louis (Satch) Armstrong, following his screen work in "Pennies in Heaven," is scheduled to play here on the 26th with his band. The tour will include Houston, Galveston, San Antonio and Waco.

"Battle Of Music" To Feature Gold And Glory Sweepstakes Dance At Tomlinson Hall, Sun., Sept 20; Tickets Now On Sale

CLARENCE PAIGE AND ERSKINE TATE TO VIE FOR DANCE HONORS

"Coming events cast their shadows before us." What actually looms as the greatest dance treat of the beginning of the fall season, promises to be the scheduled attraction of a "battle of music" between the well-known Clarence Paige's aggregation of musicians hailing from Cincy and the nationally famous Windy City dance band headed by that intangible maestro, Erskine Tate, dated at Tomlinson hall, for one night only, Sunday, September 20.

Dance fans will feel and hear a peculiar rhythm and style of "swing" that has never before invaded Naptown. These bands are considered "big time" attractions throughout the nation, and during their last appearance here booked a capacity house. A capacity crowd is sure to greet them on their return date to the city.

The Gold and Glory dance as it is labeled by the promoter is sure to be a "solid." The event will mark the first time in the history of Naptown that two nationally known dance bands will vie for honors in the world of "swing" with the dancers as judges.

Advance tickets are now on sale at the usual place, Matthew Dickerson, Hoosierdom's leading promoter, is in charge of the affair.

VOTING ENDS IN SWING BAND CONTEST

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—This column's national poll to see who has the best swing band, white or black, has ended. As you read this all letters and votes are in. Final tabulations will be released next week.

One of the most interesting phases of the contest is that most of the professional musicians have chosen Jimmie Lunceford, although some have said Duke Ellington's music was too superior to be classed as swing. But let Al Jones, concert composer of New York who collaborates with Wellman Brand, great bass player, and J. Milton Aeddle, associated with Eubie Blake, have his say:

"I must cast my vote for Lunceford with due regards to Ellington and his men ... Earl Banks is quite right in citing aid that white aggregations have and do receive to date from colored or orchestra leaders. At one of Lunceford's rehearsals several months ago I counted four outstanding ofay orky leaders trying to pick up all they could ... Andrew Hill of Baltimore is quite wrong in saying Lunceford is upstage. I know him well enough to say he is a fine chap socially and professionally."

From Teddy Green of Baltimore comes this: "I have chosen Duke as having the greatest swing band with Noble Sissle next and Cab Calloway third. The Brownskin Modern Club of Rankin, Pa., writing as a group says: "Mr. Ellington has the best swinging band and they don't even need a leader. Regardless of what song Mr. Ellington plays, it makes you get all confused. It makes you get the movement in your bones when you hear those swing tones."

To tell the truth, there were no votes for anybody except Duke and Jimmie in the week's mail. That makes the current standing as follows: Ellington, 277; Lunceford, 253; Andy Kirk, 97; Fletcher Henderson, 95; and Chick Webb, 73.

SPEED WEBB SIGNS NEW CONTRACT

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 9.—Speed Webb, the ork leader who started on the road to a successful career after a stab at pictures, is making a sensational comeback. He recently signed a two-year contract with Paul T. Robinowitz, executive of Orchestra Service of America.

Mr. Robinowitz told interviewers, "Orchestra Service will bring Speed Webb back into the limelight where he belongs. People seem to feel that a colored band should be shunted into the backround when they stand for their rights. Speed Webb was good enough for the motion pictures; he is good enough for me."

Speed Webb has reorganized his Hollywood Orchestra, with most of the original band members, and will play his first date under the Orchestra Service banner in Jacksonville.

ILL GOVERNOR SAVES 'CROPPER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 11—(ANP)—An attempt by officials of St. Francis, Ark., to get back an elderly sharecropper from Illinois and administer to him "Southern justice" was frustrated Friday when Gov. Henry Horner refused to permit the extradition of Sam Bennett.

Bennett, 56 year old member of the Southern Tenant Farmers union, fled from Arkansas at the height of terrorism during the recent strike. He was arrested in Chicago in June and his extradition sought on "assault with intent to kill" charges preferred by St. Francis officials. His case has attracted much attention and Gov. Horner on Tuesday went to Chicago to talk personally with Bennett, who recently had been released on bond.

"It was urged at the hearing and by letters and petitions from many individuals and groups of individuals that Bennett, if returned to Arkansas, might not be given a fair trial, but would be the object of mob violence," the governor said in a statement issued after he denied extradition.

"I am in receipt of a letter from Governor Futrell of Arkansas in which he says that Bennett will obtain a fair trial and that his person will be sacred all the while," I know Governor Futrell and that he is opposed to any form of mob violence. I have every confidence in his judgment, integrity and ability, but I cannot be convinced that he or any other governor can control the action of lower courts."

Horner recalled the recent sharecroppers' strike in which he said the tenant farmers had unquestionably met with violence on the part of plantation owners and pointed to floggings administered to a white woman social worker of Memphis and a white preacher who were investigating conditions as well as to several others.

He said that the governor was confident in his judgment, integrity and ability, but I cannot be convinced that he or any other governor can control the action of lower courts."

because it was based upon an insufficient affidavit. The dates were conflicting as in one place it was charged the offense was committed upon a date when Bennett admittedly was not in Arkansas.

The sharecropper, one day of the alleged "assault" was ordered into the cotton field by J. E. Schaffer, left for the purpose of getting help. Bennett, fearful of being lynched, fled and hid several days in a swamp before making his way to Chicago.

"Whether Bennett secured his hunting gun to defend himself or as a gesture of defiance toward the overseer, it was not an extraordinary crime and hardly an assault with intent to kill as charged," Horner said.

They were placed in open automobiles. They were greeted by showers of tickertape and confetti as they rode along the line of march which included Harlem and to Randall's Island escorted by motorcycle police.

After lunching as the guests of the mayor on Randall's Island, medals were presented. Mel Sheppard, winner of the 1,500 meter title for the U. S. in the 1936 Olympics, gave John Woodruff of Pittsburgh, this year's 800 meter titlist, the city's medal.

Then Ralph Metcalfe, Mack Robinson, and others were called forward to be given their medals.

Mayor LaGuardia then halted the proceedings. "Now the moment has arrived when New York City takes its hat off to the leading member of the 1936 American Olympic team—Jesse Owens," he said. "Jesse, on behalf of New York City, I hail you as an American boy. We are all Americans here; we have no black auxiliaries in this country."

The city executive referred to an editorial carried in the Nazi paper, Angriff, at the height of the games in Berlin, which charged the U. S. track and field victories as being largely the result of "black auxiliaries."

Afterwards, Owens made his award to Robinson, and then the rest of the athletes were given their medals. During the proceedings, Dr. Phil Edwards of Canada, who attended New York university and was a member of Canada's Olympic team, was seen in the audience and invited to sit with the team. Colored members of the team who landed included, besides those mentioned, Fritz Pollard, Jr., and Jimmy LaVelle, and Cornelius Johnson. Dave Albritton and Archie Williams remained in Sweden for further competition.

JESSE OWENS IS OUSTED BY AAU

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(ANP)

—Suspension of Jesse Owens from amateur ranks became official Friday with the formal announcement by A. U. officials that the Olympic pic here had been placed under a year's ban because of his announcement he would turn professional. Owens originally was suspended three weeks ago for failure to compete with other American athletes in several Swedish meets.

"The suspension became automatic when Owens said he would turn professional," Daniel J. Ferris, secretary of the A. U., said, "there is no misunderstanding involved; we wish Owens luck in his new venture."

Among other evil results of intolerance is that sufferers soon discover it is the cup that jeers.

LOCAL PILOT WILL DRIVE

which will live for years and years to come.

Some of the fastest cars which have sped around various courses of the country and brought fame to the drivers or owners will be manned by our own skilled pilots who will display fearlessness by risking their lives for the entertainment of the masses.

To date the following cars have been entered and pilots named to man them: Red Oliver, Dayton, O., Studebaker Special, car No. 10, with a bore of 3.16 inch, stroke 4 1/4 inch, piston displacement of 252 cubic in. and eight cylinders.

Fred Toy, Cleveland, O., will drive a Hai Special, owned by George Dierh, Painesville, O., car No. 18, bore of 3 3/4 inches, by 4 1/4, 207 cubic inch piston displacement, 4 cylinders.

Garland Brooks, Indianapolis, will drive a Fronty Ford, car No. 16, a Black Tom Special, 3 3/4 inch bore, 4 inch stroke, 189 cubic inch piston displacement with 4 cylinders. Ray Gellas is the owner of the car.

Robert La Salle, of Cleveland, O., will drive a Barr Special, car No. 55, which is owned by the Barr Engineering Co., bore 3 1/16 inch, stroke 4 inch, piston displacement 190 cubic inches and 4 cylinders.

There are several other cars entered by owners and drivers are yet sought to handle them in the races. "Howdy" Wilcox stated that the Gold and Glory Association will welcome applicants who wish to drive them by calling at the headquarters, 439 Indiana avenue.

One driver will pilot a "Jinx" car; he is Ray Oliver, who is piloting the car in which Clay Weatherly was killed during the 500 mile races here in 1935.

Charles Wiggins, Garland Brooks, Nolan Webb, Hugo Barnes, Bobby Wallace are among those who will carry the local hopes on the track.

The day will be wound up at Tomlinson Hall, where the Gold and Glory Ball will be staged behind a battle of jazz featuring Erskine Tate and Clarence Paige, both well known bands of the country.

All prize money will be paid the winners at this affair along with trophies which will go to the winners.

Man, Policeman Wounded In Duel

Noah "Buck" Attrip in the search for Crite, whom they knew to be injured.

A general alarm was broadcast and all scout cars were called to the station.

Armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a tear-gas gun, the four officers drove to Crite's home on Brady street. In the darkness they mistook Crite's house for the one next door, and were cautiously attempting to force the door when a voice called from the bushes surrounding the house next door, "Here I am officers."

It was Crite, his left hand bandaged with a bloody handkerchief. He offered no resistance, and told officers his shotgun was in the house. It was found on a davenport with a shell in the chamber.

Crite told officers he thought Evans was Gill who was attempting to kill him.

"If I had known it was the law I would never have raised the gun," he told Night Captain Frank J. Lafferty.

Crite was taken to Ball Memorial hospital for emergency treatment.

The shot penetrated Evans' right hand and arm in about thirty places. Two fingers on the right hand may be broken. Two shots struck his upper lip, and two penetrated his chest. His coat sleeve was shredded by the blast.

"Macbeth" has brought back several actors well known to Chicagoans. There is Edna Thomas, "Lady Macbeth" of the play, seen here previously in "Porgy" and in "Stevedore." Canada Lee, known in local boxing circles as a good fighter, now portraying "Banquo" and Charles Collins, young labor orator who has talked here, who makes a fine "Macduff" in the production.

A BREAK FOR

HANDY AND WILLIAMS

It has long been the contention of W. C. Handy, the Daddy of the Blues and head of his own music publishing house on Broadway, that Negro composers were either directly blocked or forced to sell their music for only a few cents because the big publishing houses subsidized the important bands with radio outlets.

Small composers found all the orchestras under contracts to the big companies. A Negro composer had to sell for anything he could get or else put his brainchild in storage. There was no chance to popularize a piece.

On Aug. 31 a code went into effect signed by the Music Publishers Protective Association, Inc., prohibiting subsidies, special arrangements, etc., with any band or dance place or singer. Infringements place the offending publisher subject to court injunction. Signers of the code include the biggest companies as well as Handy and Clarence Williams organizations.

In theory this ought to pave the way for Negro compositions to be popularized or refused on their own merits and remove what Handy calls the main obstacle to success. What will actually happen remains to be seen.

NOTES ON A CUFF

What do you say we call him "Bojangles" Owens? Bill Robinson can run, too, and holds an unofficial championship at the backward sprint, so it is rather fitting that the world's fastest human tie up with the premier dancer. But to make matters come out even, Jesse ought to learn how to dance backward. The largest audience to attend a theatrical performance in Raleigh, N. C., witnessed the performance of "Heaven Bound" with an all-Negro cast. At M-G-M studios recently in Hollywood 75 extra extras went on strike because they were asked to make up for their parts without the customary increase in pay. It was during the filming of "Tarzan Escapes" starring Johnny Weissmuller. The colored extras were being paid $5 daily instead of the $7.50 to $10 formerly paid.

Claude Hopkins and his band played at Moorish Castle on Revere Beach near Boston Labor Day. Ike Hatch, manager of London's Shm Sham club, was whipped about the head recently in an altercation with a guest. Ike has had to give up plans of forming a band to tour England. Duke Ellington uses the work of two white arrangers, Hilly Edelstein and Lon Berman. Ken "Snakehips" Johnson is gathering in the laurels with his band now touring England. Last week he played before the natives of Ham-mersmith, in the provinces. Valaida Snow is forming a 16-piece band to do a little touring of England on her own hook. Who said whites never call themselves after a Negro star? Throughout Poland and European jazz circles, a hot trumpeter named Ady Rosner wears the title "Louis Armstrong of Poland."

Footlight...and... Flickers

NEW YORK CITY—Skeptical New York... the city that believes only "when the payoff comes along," shot curious skyward glances and tilted squinted nostalgically when it was announced that "The Sunset Royal Serenaders" would move into the spot but later vacated by the Calloways, Lunceford's, Bill Blue Rhythm, Duke Ellington, et al. Today, New York is willing to admit that this outfit bearing the tag of "Southland's Greatest Band," comes perilously close to being "The Best Band in the Land."

"GREEN PASTURES," the Marc Connelly vehicle that has had more than its share of criticism here and abroad, seems to be doing all right by itself in the New York. The RKO Alhambra was formed to hold the screen version of the play that ran for five straight years on the stage for an extra week, and only during the last two days was there sitting space. It has moved into the Roosevelt Theatre and will make the rounds of Harlem during September.

BING CROSBY, the crooner who never seem to tire of, will do a picture with Louie Armstrong titled "Pennies from Heaven." Louie, creator of the present day craze for "swing music," will play the role of band leader in the Crosby musical comedy. With "Fats" Waller, Calloway, recently completed a singing-in-concert, Ralph Cooper, Ernest Whitman, and the tremendous "Green Pastures" cast hibernating now and again in Hollywood—the movies is beginning to shape up as a new field for colored performers.

MERCEDDES GILBERT, star of "Mulatto," looked particularly charming the other evening when we discussed with her plans of the newly organized Colored Actors and Performers Association. "My associates are determined in seeing that Negro performers work under conditions that will permit
